

ANOTHER WAR IN NEAR EAST SEEMS CERTAIN AS CONFERENCE FAILS

Preparations in Full Swing for Conflict and Hostilities May Be Expected Immediately if Parley Breaks Down

Lausanne, Jan. 29.—The allies Near East peace terms were handed to the Turks today. As no time limit was set, it will be possible to reopen negotiations after the Ankara government has studied the terms.

Toulon, France, Jan. 29.—Orders were received today for the French cruiser Strasbourg to proceed at once to the Near East. Flotillas of torpedo boats and submarines are being prepared for services in Turkish waters.

London, Jan. 29.—Great Britain has taken ample precautions to meet any emergency in the Near East, it was announced at the foreign office today.

Foreign office officials said Turkey would not be given a time limit when the Near East peace treaty is presented to them for signing at Lausanne this week. They are hopeful that Ankara eventually will accept.

Paris, Jan. 29.—(Radio to L. N. S.)—Preparations were in full swing today for another war in the Near East. According to advices received here from various sources, hostilities may be expected immediately if the Near East peace conference at Lausanne breaks down.

A Belgrade dispatch to the Matin, says that George Tchitcherine, head of the Russian delegation at Lausanne, and Ismet Pasha, leader of the Turkish envoys, have drawn up a Russo-Turkish military alliance. According to this source, Russia promises to give Turkey active assistance by sending troops to Mesopotamia and by holding Roumania neutral by massing forces on the Bessarabian frontier.

(Bessarabia is a former Russian province that was seized by Roumania).

The Greeks in Thrace, estimated at 75,000 are armed with British war materials and are prepared to attack the Turks, according to advices from Geneva quoting the Tribune.

Telegrams from Ankara say that Turkish troops are prepared to march against both Constantinople and Mosul. Constantinople is held by allied armies, while the British claim Mosul.

Paris, Jan. 29.—Two threatening war clouds, one in central Europe and the other in the Near East, loomed upon the international horizon when the council of the League of Nations met here today. Before the meeting ends, the league may be called upon to arbitrate in two quarters—first, between Germany and France; second, between Turkey and the allies.

Earl Balfour of England will present Great Britain's Mosul claims tomorrow and probably will invite the league to intervene in the Near East in the interests of peace if the Lausanne conference fails.

Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden plans to seek league intervention in the Rhineland, if opportunity offers.

When the meeting in Luxembourg palace assembled shortly after 11 o'clock with Rene Viviani, former French premier, in the chair, it was announced that the formal agenda called only for the discussion of the League budget and routine matters, but that "other subjects undoubtedly will be introduced."

Earl Balfour, in his statement on the Mosul issue will contend that Great Britain's interests in the Mosul oil fields are based upon two considerations:

First, that Mosul is a part of Mesopotamia (for which England was granted a mandate), and not part of the Turkish state, as Ankara claims.

Second, that the British have commercial concessions in Mosul which cannot be disregarded without a breach of international law and usage.

It is certain however that the league will take no action in the Near East unless Ankara refuses to sign the Lausanne treaty and threatens actual war.

Chancellor Zepel of Austria, is in Paris to report on the Austrian situation and the imperative necessity of outside assistance. He was informed he would be given a hearing late today.

ITALY'S PROPOSAL REJECTED

Rome, Jan. 29.—Premier Mussolini has proposed, and the United States has declined, an invitation to participate in an international economic conference to solve the reparations and Ruhr problems. It was learned from an official source here. Italy is ready to co-operate in such a conference, but the offer will not be renewed unless the British and Americans show themselves to be in a receptive mood, it was declared.

STORE OFFICIAL SOUGHT AS SUM OF MONEY GONE

Pittsburgh Man Hunted by Detectives as Charges Preferred.

New York, Jan. 29.—While detectives all over the United States are seeking Mortimer E. Lautman, Pittsburgh department store official who disappeared Thursday with $50,000 and against whom a charge of grand larceny has been preferred by Sol Michaels, New York lace manufacturer, his brother, Dr. Louis J. Lautman of Brooklyn today scouted the idea that he had absconded with the funds belonging to others.

"Knowing my brother as I do, I can not believe such a thing," he said. "But if that is not enough, I will say that I and the members of our family personally will make good whatever amounts are involved."

Dr. Lautman asserted that at the moment of his disappearance his brother had assets in a Brooklyn bank more than sufficient to cover the amount charged against him.

Detectives are watching steamships departing to the orient, as Lautman's business often took him there in the past.

Michaels, in the information he furnished to police, claims he gave Lautman $20,000 for the purchase of stock in the business and that he had neither received the stock nor his money back.

Dayton Officer Succumbs and Gun User Fatally Injured

Dayton, O., Jan. 29.—Patrolman George E. Clark, died early today and Daniel McDermott, 29, negro, is dying in the hospital as the result of a Sunday morning gun fight, which followed when Clark ordered McDermott to throw up his hands.

Clark and his companion were hunting a burglar at the time. The colored man responded to the command, by drawing a knife. Then shooting began. Patrick J. Roach, another Patrolman joined in the firing from the opposite side of the street.

McDermott made his getaway and boarded a street car but fell. A blood transfusion operation was performed last night to save Clark but it was unsuccessful.

No gun was found on McDermott, who explained his resistance by saying he thought the officer was a hold up man.

FIRE TRAPS HUNDRED GIRLS IN DANCE HALL

Flames Burst Into Hoboken Ballroom Shortly After Last of Dancers Make Way to Safety Early Monday Morning

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 29.—Frantic with fright, their eyes blinded by smoke, 100 girls stood screaming at the front windows of a dance hall on the second floor early today when they were trapped by a blaze which started on the first floor.

Many of them were prevented from jumping only by the strenuous efforts of their escorts.

Four hundred men and women were in the hall when the first wisps of smoke carried its way up the stairs.

All but 100 were able to leave by the exits before dense smoke barred the way. The remainder, clad in flimsy ball gown, fought to get to the windows until employees of the place secured ladders and aided them to the street.

Shortly after the last of the dancers had been led to safety, flames burst through the ceiling and into the dance hall.

Smoke began permeating through adjoining tenements and about two families were routed from their beds and either carried down fire escapes or led to safety by firemen.

The report reaching Mrs. Waltz of her husband's injuries was greatly exaggerated. After brooding for an hour the woman retired to her bedroom and swallowed the poison tablets. She reached the hospital shortly after her husband. Physicians are now endeavoring to save the two lives.

AUTHORITIES OF INDIANA TOWN FIGHTING RIOTS

Two Miners Killed In Trouble Between Races

Blanford, Ind., Jan. 29.—Tension gripped this city today as the authorities prepared to prevent further anti-black demonstrations.

Two unidentified men were killed early today and two others wounded including Sheriff Harry Newland, during a clash between a posse and a group of miners.

The men who were killed were Serbian miners.

The outbreak came as a climax to more than a week of tension, which had existed since an attack on a 12-year-old white girl. The assault, was followed by a warning to all the negro miners to leave the country.

Trouble developed early Sunday morning, when a group of miners attending a dance, inflamed with liquor fired several shots into a store conducted by negroes, who were invoicing stock.

A posse was rushed to the scene. Shooting broke forth. The outbreak was not quelled until two of the miners fell dead.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—A demand that federal authorities clean up Blanford, Ind., so called "worst town in America," where saloons were said to have run wide open with few interruptions since prohibition began, was made by Gov. AREWELL SERVICE TENDERED PASTOR SUNDAY EVENING

An audience representing every Protestant Church of the city attended the union services at the First United Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, held under the auspices of the Xenia Ministerial Association, honoring the Rev. D. D. Dodds, former pastor of that Church, who is leaving this week to take up his new pastorate at Pittsburgh, Pa.

A farewell address by the Rev. Mr. Dodds featured the service, in which every minister of the city took part. The program was presided over by the Rev. C. P. Prouditt, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, and opened with the invocation by the Rev. V. F. Brown; responsive reading, by the Rev. W. H. Tifford; a scripture lesson by the Rev. G. A. Scott and prayer by the Rev. E. W. Middleton. The address of felicitation was given by the Rev. B. B. Uhl, of the First Lutheran Church, who expressed the good will of the ministers of the city, and the congregation to Dr. Dodds and his family. At the close of his address of farewell, the Rev. Dodds on the authority of the Xenia Presbytery, declared the pulpit of the First United Presbyterian Church vacant. At the close of the service, prayer was pronounced by the Rev. A. J. Furstenberger, of the Friends Church, and the Rev. Prouditt with benediction by Rev. E. R. Brown. The Rev. Dodds received the members of the congregation at the pulpit at the close of the service.

Sunday morning the Rev. Mr. Dodds preached at the O. S. and S. O. Home Chapel. He and his family will leave by motor Tuesday morning for Pittsburgh, where he will take up his new work.

BENDER MEASURE WILL PASS WITH NO OPPOSITION

Columbus, Jan. 29.—The house of representatives is expected to pass the Bender senate bill, proposing prohibition law amendments.

The measure provides that those furnishing death-dealing liquor be prosecuted for murder, that solicitors of liquor be placed in the same category with those who offer it for sale and that the manufacture of liquor be made felony punishable by penitentiary sentence instead of a misdemeanor.

Republican leaders are expected to sidetrack the resolution offered by Senator Burke of Ellyria, requesting President Harding to call a conference of world powers, by referring his bill to a committee, where it will be allowed to die a peaceful death, while the house is expected to adopt the resolution of Representative Herbert of Franklin county, expressing confidence in President Harding's ability to handle the foreign situation without assistance from the Ohio general assembly and declaring the assembly should confine itself to solving state problems.

The house taxation committee announced the final meeting on the Taft taxation measure for Tuesday night. There will be a public hearing in the senate tomorrow evening on the Burke bill to establish a minimum wage board for regulating wages of women and children in industry.

The nurse anaesthesia bill, introduced by Senator Kumlir of Preble county, is to be up for hearing before the senate health committee tomorrow morning. This question always has provoked a heated controversy between members of the medical profession, who are divided on it, hospitals and nurses. Kumlir's bill would repeal the law passed several years ago giving nurses right to administer anaesthetics.

COX SAYS THAT INVASION MISTAKE

Springfield, O., Jan. 29.—Former Governor Cox delivered an address here on international affairs. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Cox said he regarded the invasion of Germany by the French as a mistake, "because the time has come when no question should be settled by force of arms." He also declared the "time has come to take this thing out of politics" and that "American leadership must be established that inspires a sustaining public opinion." "The administration can put an end to partisan controversy if it forms international relationships through which our moral and economic agencies can function. The people are in no humor for specious or capacious criticism and there will doubtless be none. If the league of nations is not to be availed of, then an alternative procedure must be created."

ISLANDS THRIVE ON BOOZE TRADE SAYS LAWMAKER

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representative Rogers of Massachusetts issued a statement here declaring that liquor is now being smuggled into the United States from the Bahama Islands at the rate of 1,200,000 gallons annually.

Mr. Rogers stated that while the government and population of that British colony, getting "relatively immense revenues from the traffic," are absolutely indisposed to sympathize with efforts to check it. He said his statement was based on official data furnished him by the state department.

From the duties on whisky alone, Mr. Rogers said, the islands are deriving an income three times as great as their government revenues from all sources in 1918, while the estimated profits of those interested in the traffic, including members of the elected legislative body, are said to be enriching.

Mr. Rogers said the state department report "read like a book of fiction" in describing the mushroom growth—still continuing—of what he classed as "an established practice, with great capital and organized procedure, of running liquor into the United States through the screen erected by prohibition enforcement agents."

Up until 1919, Mr. Rogers asserted, the annual imports of liquor from the Bahamas were 50,000 gallons, while for 1922 they amounted to 1,200,000 gallons.

"The Bahamas are certainly the oasis of 'dry America,'" his statement said. "To the last quart, I am advised, the liquors are shipped to the United States. All told, 2,000,000 gallons have found their way into the country, all the way from Norfolk, Philadelphia and New York as far east as Boston.

"The vessels, nearly all flying the British flag, will clear for the French port of St. Pierre, Miquelon or for Tampico, Mexico. In the first instance, the vessels really unload their cargoes off New York or some other North Atlantic port. This was the case of the ships which kept the 'dry navy' so busy beyond the three-mile line off New York a week or two ago.

In the second instance—that of Tampico clearance—the actual destination is New Orleans or some gulf port. As a matter of fact, the ships never proceed to the ports for which they have cleared, but lie off the American coast and are met by prearrangement outside the three-mile limit by small but speedy American motor boats."

Washington, Jan. 29.—Charges that 2,000,000 gallons of liquor have been smuggled into the United States from the West Indies since the inauguration of prohibition are substantially correct, it was admitted at the State Department today.

The figures coincide with official reports from American consular officers in the islands.

Clint Beal's family of Upper Bellbrook pike, is convalescing after a severe siege with grip.

Faubus School has been closed for several days on account of illness of Mr. Thompson, teacher. Many of the pupils, also, are on the sick list.

Morris Jones and father, who have been living on the Deal place, on the Upper Bellbrook pike, have moved to Crawford Smith's tenant house, on the Beavertown pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haines are both on the sick list, suffering from the grip.

The family of Walter Hess, of the Upper Bellbrook pike, has joined the majority with every member of the family on the grip list.

The annual upheaval is beginning to take on motion. February will see many changes among farm tenants in this locality and several sales.

CONGRESS IS IN HOME STRETCH OF LONG RACE

Washington, Jan. 29.—Congress today entered the home stretch of its long, troublous legislative race, in exactly five weeks the present session dies, with numerous important problems still undecided.

Paramountly, from the administration's point of view, remains the ship subsidy bill, which apparently has been successfully and permanently sidetracked by legislative jockeying of its opponents.

There seemed little possibility today that the shipping bill ever can be forced to a vote at this session. This, even the most hopeful supporters believe would mean its death, for the personnel of the new congress, is known to be even more antagonistic to the bill than the present.

What hope the administration held for passage of the merchant marine act has practically vanished with the new complexities of the farm credits situation in the Senate. Until a few days ago every indication pointed to clear sailing for the Lenroot-Anderson bill, and there was ample reason to believe it would pass this week.

Now passage seems remote as a result of announcement by Senator Norbeck, Republican of North Dakota he would this week offer his $250,000,000 foreign credits bill as a substitute for the Lenroot measure, sponsored by the administration. Norbeck has the support of the "farm bloc" and the Agriculture committee whose members feel the bill more adequately fills the needs of the farmers for it provides greater market facilities, held to be more essential than domestic credits.

This bill provides for financing operations of foreign purchasers of American farm products, under the administration of the war finance corporation.

Such farm leaders as Senators Norris, Republican of Nebraska, Chairman of the agriculture committee and Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, are ready to go along with Norbeck to any limit in securing favorable action on the bill.

While the new farm credits fight is smouldering, another class, perhaps even more bitter, looms when the army supply bill is reported, either Tuesday or Wednesday. It is expected efforts will be made to have this measure temporarily displace rural relief bills.

The senate's "small army" group wants to cut down the size of the personnel and slash the rivers and harbors appropriation.

This may precipitate another long and involved discussion of foreign relations for the measure Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, may attach his resolution authorizing the president to call a world economic conference. At any rate the Idaho Senator has served notice he will bring the resolution before the senate this week. When he does that the "bitter ends" and the "irreconcilables" are prepared to discuss at considerable length the administration's policy with respect to reparations problems.

Once the foreign relations discussion begins there is no telling how many days it may continue. Democrats may use it as an excuse to delay action on the army bill and the ship subsidy.

Two attempts to restrict debate on the shipping bill have been blocked. It is not believed another effort will be made for Senator Brookhart has announced he is "ready to read enough scriptures to talk the bill to death, if necessary."

The chances now are the administration leaders will not try to bring up the shipping bill until the last few days of the session when a final endeavor will be made to jam it through with night sessions.

ZIMMERMAN

The revival meeting in charge of Rev. Haines is being well attended. There have been several additions to the church. The meetings will continue during this week.

Mrs. Lambert Neff, of Alpha, is getting along nicely, after undergoing an operation, at Miami Valley Hospital, which was performed by Dr. Marcellus Coy.

Ralph Shoup is able to be out after a severe attack of grip.

Mr. Bas Greene had a very successful sale, Wednesday. He will move from the Kiefaber farm, where he has lived for many years, to the farm he has purchased in the New Liberty (New Germany) neighborhood.

Mrs. Wm. Glotfelter, of Dayton, attended services at this place, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Charlotte Lenz spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. De Board.

Mrs. Andy O'Hara and daughter, Frances, were guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. Ed Herman, in Dayton, Saturday night and Sunday.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TAMPA ROWS OVER NEW VAGRANT LAW

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 29.—An appeal to the supreme Court of Florida has been taken by the city of Tampa in an effort to continue the operation of the present ordinance against vagrants which was declared unconstitutional recently by Circuit Judge F. M. Robles on the ground that the ordinance places the burden of proof upon the defendants instead of upon the city.

In getting permission from the City Commissioners to take the appeal, City Attorney H. S. Hampton stated that the wording of the city ordinance here is similar to that in successful operation in nearly every city in the country and to have it repealed would seriously handicap the Police Department. In case the decision of the Circuit Court holds when the case is brought to the Supreme Court, a new ordinance will be passed, worded differently.

The Police Department, it is declared, has a hard time even as it is to enforce the laws against the idle class and just now is engaged in waging a war against the "higher up" class of vagrants, who in many cases are reported to be heads of bootlegging, moonshining, Chinese smuggling and automobile stealing gangs. The decision of the Circuit

Miss Uhl has been much interested in Art and her work, has been praised by the teachers as well as the members of the Art Club, her invitation to enter the club coming as a complete surprise. She was immediately placed on the Poster and Bulletin committee of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harner spent Sunday in this city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schmidt of W. Third Street. Mrs. Harner returned to New York from here and Mr. Harner went back to Indianapolis where he is now located.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Coy (Blanche Reals) of Dayton, are the parents of a son, born January 23.

Styles BY LENORE

Extremely practical for the sudden changes of wind and weather—and there are these changes in the pleasant of places—is a short coat of soft wool fabric. The color is yellow like the imprisoned sunshine of a buttermilk.

Another type of coat that is liked a lot this season is the straight box effect with a tie that fastens the coat at the side.

This style of coat I have seen in nearly all the shops in beige, green, and yellow, in combination with crepe de chine or kasha skirts, always white and nearly always pleated. Many of the well-known French houses have been exploiting leather for sports. But Leather as soft as silk—fabrics.

Premet made a chic mannish coat of supple suede, with pockets and belt bound in shiny patent leather. A striking jumper of red leather simply embroidered with silver, and worn with a pleated crepe de chine skirt, is one of the most effective contributions of Molyneux.

Mrs. L. H. Finney, of the Finney Millinery store, left Monday for New York and Cleveland, to buy spring millinery stock.

Mrs. Jesse Nesmith, of Dayton, formerly Miss Katherine McGiven, of Cedarville, who has been seriously ill at the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home.

Miss Etta Wilkins, Mrs. Lemma Lynn, and son, Archie, Miss Hazel Johnson, of Columbus, and Mrs. Margaret Barton, motored to Columbus, Sunday, and were entertained by Miss Johnson, at six o'clock dinner at the Marneen.

Miss Fathie Rankin, of Columbus, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rankin, of East Main Street.

Mrs. A. H. Cosler, of Trebeins, who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.

Mr. R. C. Britton bookkeeper at the Waverly Wholesale grocery company, is leaving the first of February for Richmond, Ind., where he will enter a similar position with the company at that branch. His place at the local offices will be taken by Mr. C. E. Stevenson, of Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will come to this city next week, and take an apartment in the Shoup Apartments on North Collier Street.

Mrs. Charles Brewer, of South West Street, is suffering from a painful injury to her foot, received when she fell down a flight of stairs at her home Friday evening. The extent of the injury cannot be determined, attending physicians taking an X-ray Monday, to see if any broken bones had resulted.

Miss Mina St. John, of East Second street, received a badly sprained ankle, when she fell Friday. The injury has kept her confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oral Luck and two children, of Dayton, were week-end guests of Mr. Luck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Luck, of Elm street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cannon, of Dayton, attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Blair, in this city Saturday.

ON THE SICK LIST

Mr. C. F. Logan, of East Second Street, is in a serious condition, at his home, following a week's illness, suffering from grip which has developed into pneumonia. Physicians hold little hope of his recovery.

Mrs. Mattie B. Rowland, 39 West Second Street, is ill, suffering from congestion of the lungs.

Mrs. Lester Bowers of South West Street, is ill with grip.

Thelma and William Anderson, children of Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, of Chestnut Street, have been ill with grip, but are now improving.

Mrs. George Dean, and two children, William and Mary P. Dean, have been suffering from severe attacks of grip since Friday. Mrs. Dean, and William are somewhat improved, the condition of Mary remaining unchanged.

DR. GRANT BLAMES CAPITALISTS

New York, Jan. 23.—Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant—under fire for alleged heretical utterances—charged in his sermon at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, that the fight against him was inspired by capitalist interests, working "under the surface," rather than by any true religious zeal to purge the church of apostates. He indicated broadly that he intended to continue preaching his conception of a "humanistic" religion even if he had to "exchange the marble halls of his church for a street corner soap box."

URBANA FIVE WINS OVER LOCAL TEAM

Making up for a 60 to 23 defeat handed them last year on the Rink Court here, Urbana High School sought and obtained revenge at Urbana Saturday night, and turned the tables on Xenia Central High court team to the tune of 41 to 19.

The first half found Coach "Puss" Burner's team trailing the Urbana lads but still within reaching distance, but the second period Urbana showed a more consistent offensive power and gambled away easily with the victory.

Urbana was fortunate enough to have three of last year's athletes left over for this season's team, and all three of these lads showed that they have benefited by experience. Woods and Edmondson are veterans at forward and these lads were large contributors to Urbana's scoring records. Woods garnered six field goals while Edmondson's total was eight. McConnell at guard, is another veteran and his foul shooting added to the general total.

Woody, at forward, was high score man for the locals, with four field goals and three fouls to his credit. LeSourd got away for three field goals, but could not connect from the free line. The guarding of the blue and white five was well off color throughout the pastime and the let-down in the second period was considerable. The lineup and summary:

Xenia—19. Urbana—41.
Woody, L. F., Edmondson, LeSourd, R. F., Woods, Schwab, C., Donovan, Currie, A. L. G., Knight, Zell, R. G., McConnell.

Substitutions: Xenia—Smith for Zell for Currie; Urbana, Morrison for McConnell, McConnell for Donovan, Field Goals: LeSourd 3, Woody 4, Schwab 1, Woods 6, Edmondson 8, Donovan 1. Foul goals: Woody 3 out of 8, LeSourd 0 out of 6, McConnell 11 out of 20. Referee: Northup, Antioch.

Two visiting athletes will play under the colors of John Roan Post, American Legion basketball team Monday night when the locals meet the New York Defenders at the Rink for the second time this season. Sol Butler, the Olympic athlete and Rhone of the Defenders, who will play with the Legion five during the rest of the season will play with the Defenders Monday night in their last game of the season with that team. For that reason Coach Dean Mohr, who is now managing the local quintet, has obtained the services of Spears, the Springfield star and "Rock" Anderson, of the Cincinnati "Y" team to play with the locals Monday night.

KNIFE WOUNDS MAY PROVE TO BE FATAL

HOPE TO RECEIVE BONUS SETTLEMENTS

Thirty or forty Greene County ex-soldiers who have not received their state adjusted compensation, may be compensated soon through efforts of Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson and the co-operation of American Legion Posts in the County.

The state bureau of adjusted compensation has sent a list of these men whose claims are being held up because their residence in Ohio at the time of enlistment is under question to Prosecutor Williamson in an effort to establish their correct addresses.

Believing that the American Legion is in touch with most of these men, Prosecutor Williamson has sent lists to the various Legion Commanders, according to the addresses given, and they are now being investigated by Commanders in Fairfield, Osborn, Yellow Springs, Cedarville, Jamestown and Xenia.

U. S. RECOGNITION OF SOVIET RUSSIA NOT FORTHCOMING

Making Men and Women But Losing Money

Few people realize the great difference between the annual cost of educating a student and the amount that he or she pays to the University. They have no conception of the investment that Ohio Wesleyan makes each year in her boys and girls, for which no charge can be made.

Ohio Wesleyan cannot charge students as much as their schooling costs, without closing the door of opportunity to those of moderate means, who see in Christian education a chance to render the highest service to the World.

This University no more seeks to make money than do our public schools;—the public schools make up their income from taxes, while Ohio Wesleyan always has, and doubtless always will have, to depend upon income from endowment funds to make up her operating deficiencies.

CLARK HUTCHISON.

We doubt if there was a man in Xenia more beloved than Clark Hutchison. And now we shall see his pleasant face in life no more. This is a sad thought to thousands of people. It will seem almost like a community loss—as with the death of John Wanamaker to Philadelphia. He had stood in our community as Wanamaker had stood in his—an emblem of integrity, virtue and christian uprightness. And what more can be asked of any man?

What an ideal married life was that of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hutchison. Sixty years of loving association—sixty years of delightful companionship—sixty years of affectionate connection. To how few does God give such an inestimable blessing.

And what an ideal death was that of Clark Hutchison. No long sickness—no protracted suffering—no dread of that which is inevitable to all of us. God simply took him. If we could have our choice about the manner of our passing away, we could not ask a pleasanter one.

John Foster, a celebrated English author, used language that would be appropriate to Mr. Hutchison when he said:

"Death is not, to the christian, what it has often been called, 'paying the debt of nature.' No, it is not paying a debt; it is rather like bringing a note to a bank to obtain solid gold in exchange for it. The old person brings a cumbersome body which is nothing worth, and which you could not wish to long retain, you lay it down and receive for it, from the treasury of Heaven, Youth and Immortality."

So, Clark Hutchison is gone, and the best thing any of us could do would be to imitate his virtues, and his exemplary life, to the best of our ability. This is the best way to show our esteem for his lovely character.

TRAVELERS AGAIN ROAM THE WORLD.

Domestic and foreign travel for the coming year is liable to break all records, according to Ralph E. Towle, head of the American Express Travel department. "The return of the nations of the world to peaceful pursuits once more permits tens of thousands of travelers to again roam the world," said Mr. Towle. "While the cost of transportation has increased two-thirds, the purchasing power of the dollar abroad has more than doubled. The tales brought back by returning tourists this past year, of the bargains to be had on the continent for American dollars, has done much to stimulate foreign travel and create inquiries even at this early date for this year's travel."

"In 1922 approximately 200,000 travelers crossed the Atlantic and spread out over the continent. It is safe to say that each tourist spent on an average of $1,000, or a total of $200,000,000. This year with increased facilities and better conditions here and abroad, I look for at least a 20 per cent increase in these figures."

"For every dollar spent by the traveling public abroad five dollars are spent in this country. Take Atlantic City, for instance where some 10,000,000 people were entertained last year. If each of these spent on an average of $25, the total would be $250,000,000. I estimate that those who visited the National Parks last year spent $300,000,000 and the season in Florida cost the tourist another $300,000,000."

"Ten years ago that branch of travel known as pleasure cruises was still in its infancy. Last year the seven seas were full of cruising ships and there seemed to be an inexhaustible supply of travelers demanding space on board these ships."

NATURAL GAS SAVES THIRTY MILLION TONS OF COAL.

An idea of the magnitude of the industry may be gained from the fact that more than thirty million tons of coal would be required annually to replace the use of natural gas.

The drilling of wells to tap the gas reservoirs in the earth is only the beginning of the great task of supplying natural gas. The consumers of gas are often hundreds of miles away, and to deliver the elusive fuel huge pipe lines must be constructed through the hills, mountains and over rivers, and the gas forced through these lines by enormous compressors of thousands of horse-power, built at intervals along the lines.

The pipe lines must be patrolled day and night to guard against leakage or breakage, and emergency repair squads must be ever ready and vigilant to instantly repair damage done by land-slide or flood.

It is an alarming and serious fact that this unequalled fuel, created by nature for the needs of man and developed and distributed by such enormous expenditure of energy and capital, is being thoughtlessly and prodigally wasted.

Will you, as one of the twelve million natural gas users, help stop this waste, in order that the supply may be perpetuated for your own future use? You can do this with an immediate cash saving to yourself and without curailing your needs—simply by the use of proper appliance—proper adjustment of burners—proper mixture of gas and air.

HALLELEIGH, THE SALOON IS GONE FOREVER.

One of the strongest proofs with which to combat the arguments of those who maintain that prohibition is not accomplishing anything in America is to be found in the many old corners in every city or town of any size where once flourished saloons, and where now are prosperous bakeries, banks, clothing stores, and such like. No more is really necessary. Who cannot remember such corners, which were in fact a disgrace to their neighborhoods and which now are a credit? Who does not remember the cry, which was heard on all sides, that the pay envelope was robbed of most of its contents by the saloon's hungry till before the home expenses were even thought about, and who hears such a cry today to anything like the same extent? That ancient and horrible institution, the openly conducted saloon, is gone, and with it many of the most terrible memories of but a few years ago to thousands of families. It is true there is some illicit drinking, but at heart America is dry, and the proof of it is in the fact that the saloon is gone forever.

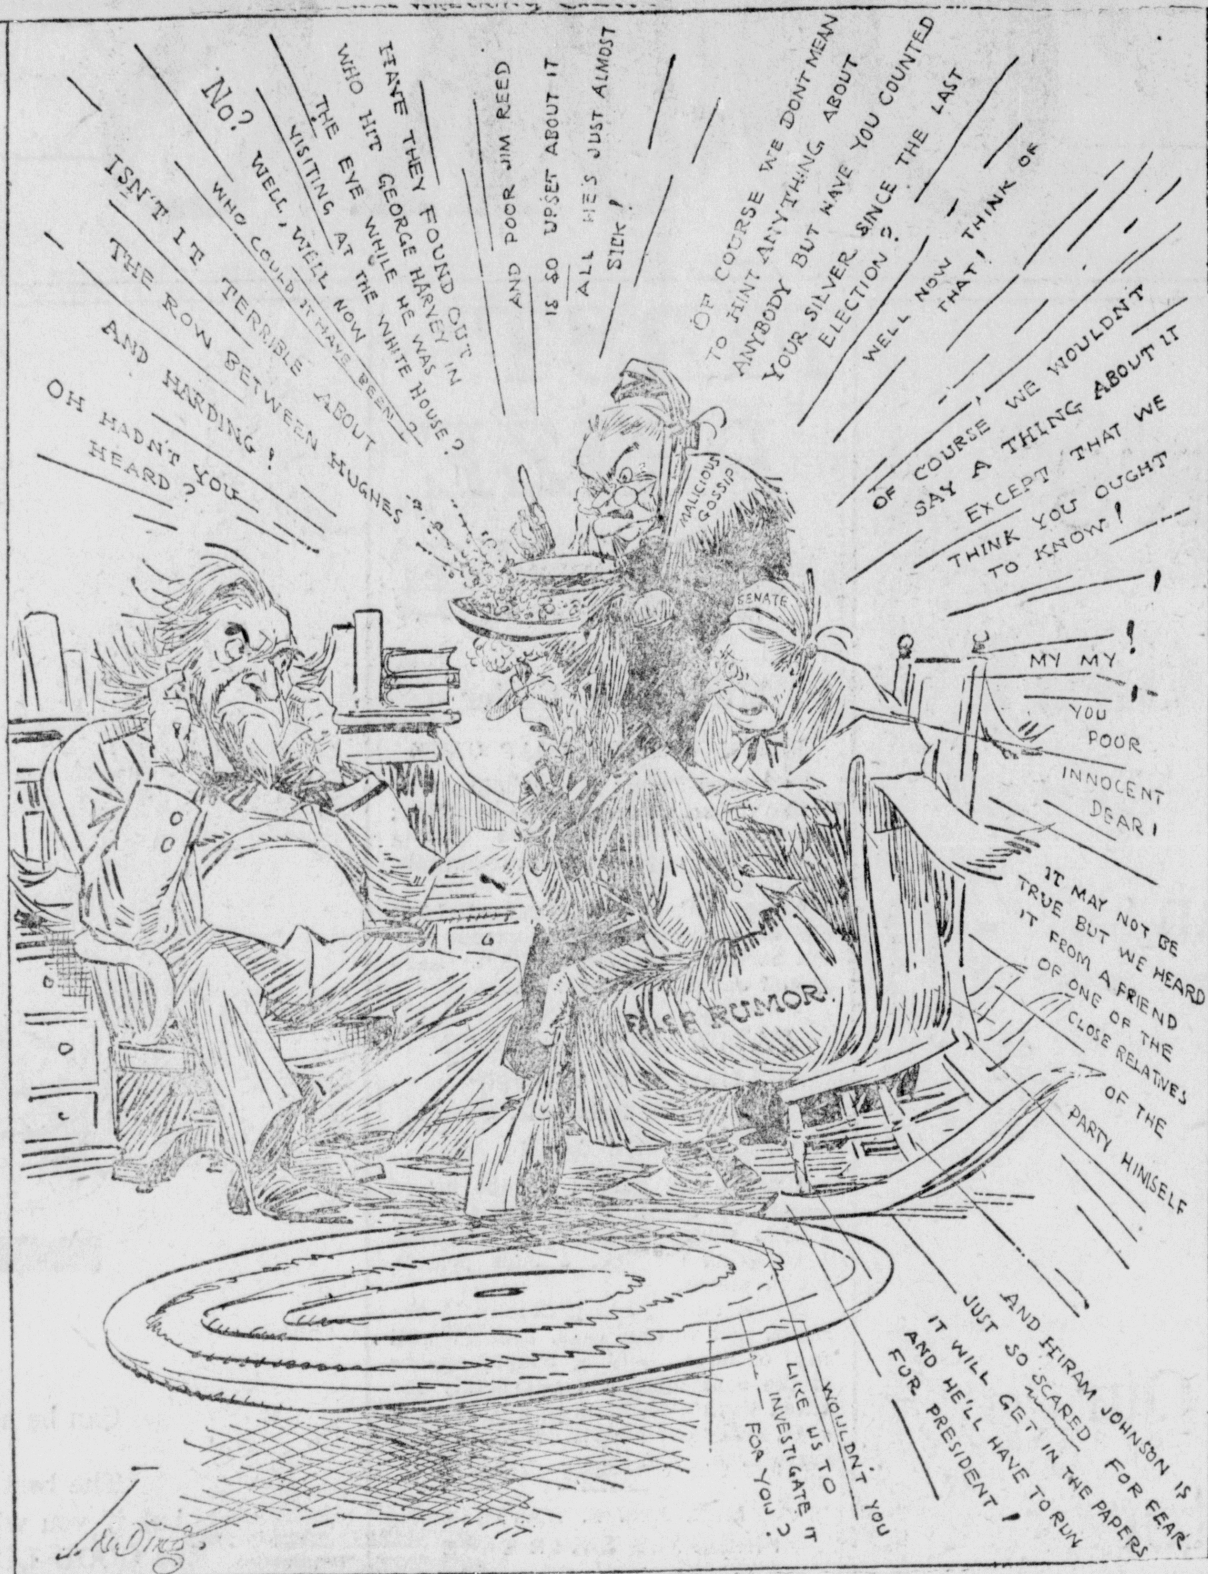

The first daily newspaper in the United States was the Penny Packet, issued in 1784.

Motor car production in France during 1921 is estimated at 53,000 passenger cars and 2,500 trucks.

The national forests of Alaska contain 20,000,000 acres of timber suitable for general consumption.

Carbonated soda water manufactured in Oklahoma last year amounted to 77,500,000 seven-ounce bottles.

The Pen Handle railroad company is arranging to establish an office of civil engineering in this city and two engineers will be located in Xenia to look after some improvements which are in contemplation by the company out

LARGE NOSE PORES

The perfect complexion, like the perfect disposition, is seldom met with outside a novel. The most common complexion flaw is a collection of enlarged pores around the nostrils, usually in that little curved part that outlines the nostrils or perhaps all over the nose.

The reason is that the circulation of the blood is more sluggish at this than any other part of the body. So the skin is less active, and less readily throws off the accumulations of matter that pass out of the body through all the pores. And because of this very sluggishness these pores are the hardest to reduce once they have enlarged.

However, here's the method if you find that you too, have this imperfection.

with toilet water. Mrs. F. R.—If the warts are very bad have a doctor remove them with caustic. Very often mild ones can be removed at home by rubbing them with washing soda or with a mixture of olive oil or salt.

Discouraged—If both the arms and the legs are too thin it is quite likely that you are underweight. Take deep breathing and arm exercises, walk a great deal and dance whenever possible.

Take six tablespoonsful of olive oil, two with each meal, or drink about a quart of very rich milk every day.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells. S. S. S. builds the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digesting torture and its soul-torturing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting platoons of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1823! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders. Eczema-sufferers and body-builders known to us mankind! When you put these facts together—when you continue to have eczema and S. S. S. eruptions looks more like a skin disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, 304 1st St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began itching S. S. S. and a well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

OUT OF JAIL.

I was sorry when my niece killed a lady with a rock; sorry when the fresh police put her under key and lock; but a jury her peers, moved to pity by her tears, let her down with set years, and she smiled and left the dock. Clara—that's my niece name—was in luck, we must agree, and she should have played the game, but she hankered to be free; so she saved her prison bars while her jailors smoked cigars, and beneath the midnight stars she went romping o'er the lea. Had she journeyed to the pen like a pious, moral maid, she would soon be free again, for the years so swiftly fade; and, her sentence being done, she could buy herself a gun and enjoy all kinds of fun, of the peelers unafraid. Now she is a hunted thing, like the coyote on the hill; while the weary years take wing, Clara will be hunted still; when her foolish head is gray she will dread the light of day, and the cop across the way will impart a deadly chill. Take your bitters when they're due, for postponement is no friend; though they be a ghastly brew, let the noxious draught descend; you may, with a heedless smile, dodge old Nemesis a while, but the bitters, sour as bile, must be taken in the end.

Today's Talk

PEOPLE—ALL SORTS

No place is quite so lonely as that place where people are not.

It does seem as though every human with whom we come in contact has something for each of us, if we will but take it.

You may quickly size up this person or that one and say that he isn't worth while. But you never know. The outward garment tells but little. Even the contour of the face conceals much that is hidden deeper.

Our stranger neighbor may some day become our best friend. And he whom you may wrongly misjudge today may tomorrow stand for you the staunchest.

The truth is that in people of all sorts—lies the happiness for which our immortal souls most long. For from those of our own kind alone are we able to draw our richest rewards in association, in inspiration and understanding.

The more people you know and the more people you read about, the more you are prepared to battle your own life through to a splendid finish.

People are made up of but two great divisions; the good and the bad. In neither division, however, is there true division—for there is none wholly bad or wholly good.

We are all both good and bad; that it devolves upon us all to be charitable toward all others, that others may be charitable toward us. Get all the good you can from other people—and give all the good you can to them.

Overlook the faults and failures of other people. Look for their good and redeeming qualities.

Peace and good-will on earth is a matter of co-operation and forbearance—that is, giving the other fellow his due, and then working with him to make the world as a whole better world.

And that takes in you who read this Talk, and me who has written it!

HARVEY READY TO ADVISE ON DEBT QUESTION

London, Jan. 29.—George Harvey, American ambassador to England, who was recalled to report to the United States government upon European affairs, arrived from Washington today and announced that he is ready to advise upon the Anglo-American debt negotiations if his services are desired.

Ambassador Harvey refused to discuss the British debt issue in detail, nor would he disclose what part he will play in future negotiations.

"I am ready to advise if called upon," he said.

The ambassador was questioned about the statement he was reported to have made that "the United States is damned well out of Europe."

Washington, Jan. 29.—An early decision by the British cabinet authorizing Sir Auckland Geddes to resume negotiations over the funding of the five billion dollar British debt is expected by officials here today.

Government officials who are watching closely the reception being accorded the American terms in England said today they did not expect immediate acceptance or rejection of the proposal carried back to London by Chancellor Baldwin.

The opinion nevertheless prevails in official quarters here that ultimately the British cabinet will accept the American terms or something very closely akin to them, although a great deal more negotiating probably will be necessary.

London, Jan. 29.—The British public was unpleasantly surprised at the frank statement made by Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, of what he considers the reason for the failure of his mission to Washington in an endeavor to arrange for the funding of Great Britain's debt to the United States.

The public had been led by semi-official utterances to believe a satisfactory adjustment of the matter would not be difficult; hence the question again is to be forefront of public attention and is considered to present to the new government of Andrew Bonar Law, which was elected on a policy of economy and retrenchment, a very awkward problem.

Acceptance of the American terms will mean, it is said, a yearly burden of more than 30,000,000 pounds on the British exchequer for the next 60 years. The government is confronted with demands from the new income tax, and from the classes for a reduction in the duty on beer. How to get these demands while paying 30,000,000 pounds annually to the United States is the government's dilemma.

The cabinet is said to be divided on the subject. Some of the ministers, and it is reported these include the prime minister, favor accepting the American terms, but others incline to delay in acquiescence to them. The press also is similarly divided.

Some of the newspapers are blaming Mr. Baldwin for the present situation. As an example, the Express reproaches Mr. Baldwin for looking more like an American emissary than a British chancellor. This newspaper also raises a point that seems certain to attract a deal of attention, namely, that the American terms require payments in American currency. The Sunday Express asserts that any obligation to pay in American currency would be unthinkable, because any attempt to meet the debt in dollars could only mean the depreciation of the pound and eventually default with probable collapse.

COUNTY AUDITOR GRANGE MEETING IN GREENE COUNTY

County Auditor R. O. Wead, will be the principal speaker on the afternoon program of the all-day meeting of Greene County Pomona Grange to be held with Miami Grange at Yellow Springs, Wednesday.

The meeting is not only the first of the year 1923 but will also be marked by the annual installation of officers, elected at the meeting in December. Owing to the vast amount of business to be taken up, the all-day meeting will open at ten o'clock in the morning, when the degree work will be exemplified by officers of the Grange on a number of candidates expected to become members at that meeting. The business session will also be held in the morning and at noon the members present will enjoy dinner together.

The afternoon program is in charge of the entertainment committee and will be featured by Mr. Wead's address and will also include music and recitations. Officers are anticipating a large attendance at the meeting.

FIRST PRIZE COOKIES

Break in one end, drain the milk, remove shell and grate the nut meat. Boil together.

Cream sugar and butter together. Sift flour and baking powder twice, add part of milk and flour alternately. Add vanilla, beat thoroughly and fold in the beaten egg whites. This is sufficient for two large layers.

Iceing—Boil together 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup water until it boils when dropped from a spoon. Cool for two minutes and pour over the white of one egg beaten very stiff, stirring constantly. Beat with a Dover beater until creamy and it begins to thicken, spread over the cake and sprinkle the grated coconut all over.

Diogenes Out of a Job

DIOGENES, the Greek cynic and philosopher, was a successful advertiser. He lived in a barrel to advertise himself. At high noon he was wont to light his lantern and stroll about the streets of Athens, "In search," he said, "of an honest man." In this way he advertised one of the prevailing failings of the classic Greeks. For among the ancients, the most successful merchant was the biggest skinflint. The cleverest buyer was the loudest bargainer.

There's no room for a cynic in modern advertising. Advertising, today, calls attention to the open-faced honesty of business. It has standardized almost every article you can buy. You know what to expect and what to pay. You don't have to dicker, bargain and haggle to know that you are getting as good as you give.

That is why it pays to read advertisements and buy advertised goods. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its faithful performance, its lasting usefulness or its definite quality.

If you value constant satisfaction—if you want to get your full money's worth every time—read the advertisements.

PAINFULLY INJURED AS CAR OVERTURNS NEAR JAMESTOWN

Mrs. D. E. Bailey, of Jamestown, received cuts and bruises when the Ford sedan, driven by her husband, occupied by her daughter, Miss Lucille Bailey and herself, overturned near Jamestown, Saturday evening.

The party was returning to Jamestown from Dayton, and a short distance from Jamestown, met a heavy truck on the road and were forced to turn into the ditch. Mr. Bailey made the turn too abruptly, swerving on the wet road, the car overturning.

Flying glass and the force of the crash resulted in Mrs. Bailey receiving cuts and bruises. Mr. Bailey and their daughter were unhurt. The machine was considerably damaged.

MISS ANNA SCHMIDT DIES SUDDENLY AT CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Stricken with a sudden attack of heart trouble with which she has suffered for a number of years, Miss Anna Schmidt, 67, died suddenly while attending the evening service at the First United Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, about 7:30 o'clock. Miss Schmidt had suffered repeated attacks for a number of years, but had been in her usual health Sunday. The direct cause of death was thought to be neuralgia of the heart.

Miss Schmidt was a life-long resident of this city, where she was well known, born here October 30, 1856. She attended the public schools in this city, and was well known for her charitable work. She had resided for the past thirty years with her brother, H. E. Schmidt, on North King street.

She is survived by one brother, H. E. Schmidt, and two half brothers, Martin Schmidt, of this city, and Charles Schmidt, of New York. She was a member of the First Reformed Church of this city, being affiliated with that denomination since girlhood, teaching in the children's department of the Sunday School for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held at the H. E. Schmidt home, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. E. W. Middleton, pastor of the First Reformed Church, assisted by the Rev. L. A. Loucks, of Tiffin, former pastor of that church. Interment will be made at Woodland Cemetery.

DEATH CLAIMS LOCAL RESIDENT

Mrs. Catherine Fisher, of this city, widow of Mr. John Fisher, died Sunday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock at the home of her daughter Mrs. J. P. Heeg, in Yellow Springs, where she went January fifth for a visit. Her death was due to grip from which she had been ill for the last two weeks.

Mrs. Fisher, who was aged eighty-four years, was born in Germany but came to the United States at the age of fifteen years and had since made her home in the vicinity of Yellow Springs and Xenia. For the last three years she had made her home in this city with her daughter, Miss Margaret.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. George Bock, of Yellow Springs, Mrs. J. S. Heeg, of Yellow Springs, Miss Margaret Fisher of this city and Mrs. T. A. Donley of Yellow Springs.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at St. Paul's Church, in Yellow Springs, of which Mrs. Fisher was a member, and burial will be made in Woodland Cemetery in this city.

Well-Known Columbus Man Tells
How He Regained His Health
After Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mr. J. E. Nichols, decorator, residing at 168 Chicago Avenue, Columbus, in referring to his gratifying experience with Ka-di-ok, says: "I feel it my duty to state my experience with Ka-di-ok as it may be the means of helping a number of people who are now suffering as I did, to get their health back. Before taking Ka-di-ok I was in a miserable condition due to stomach and liver trouble; I was very nervous; seldom got a night's sleep; felt drowsy and tired all the time, and was generally in a poor state of health. Quite often I would have dark spots before my eyes and a dizzy feeling. In a few weeks' time after taking Ka-di-ok regularly I am a changed man; my stomach and liver troubles have gone; my appetite is good, and I sleep well every night in the week and get up rested, ready to do a hearty breakfast and do a good day's work. I cannot say anything too good of Ka-di-ok.

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

ESCAPE INJURY ON TRACTION LINE

The members of the Wittenberg girls' basketball team, Coach Miller and several rosters, escaped possible death or injury, near Yellow Springs, Saturday night, when returning to Springfield, in a bus following a game at Wilmington.

At a crossing near Yellow Springs, the bus got out of the driver's control, and ran up the interurban track for about 10 feet. Before the machine could be stopped it got crossways of the track. A few minutes later, the headlight of an interurban car came in sight around a curve about a mile away.

Coach Miller instructed the girls, who were panic-stricken, to keep their seats and started towards the car, pulling off his coat as he ran. The motorman saw his frantic signals and stopped the car.

In the struggle to get to a safe place, several of the girls were bruised and several fell into the ditch along the tracks.

Stewed Meat and Rice: In most families at least a little of Sunday's roast is still left to serve for Tuesday's dinner. Line a buttered baking dish, or an aluminum mold, with tender boiled rice and fill the center with cooked left-over meat (any kind). Cover top with more rice, the paper over the top of the dish, and place this dish, or mold, in a large saucepan containing boiling water.

Let the water boil up around the mold for one hour, then turn out its contents onto your meat platter and serve hot, with the following:

Tomato Sauce: One-half can of tomatoes cooked 20 minutes with one teaspoon of sugar, one-half onion, and one-half teaspoon of salt; then rub through a sieve and add either one cup of soup stock, or one cup of left-over pan, (consomme or bouillon). In a frying pan, brown four tablespoons of butter and rub into this three tablespoons of flour, then gradually add the strained tomato and allow to boil up a few minutes before serving.

Apple Dowdy: Pare apples and measure, after coring and slicing. There should be four pounds of the prepared sliced apple. Put these slices into a buttered baking dish with two-thirds of a cup of brown sugar, one-third cup of molasses, one cup of cold water, and one generous teaspoon of ground cinnamon, then cover with the following crust: Sift together two cups of bread flour, a pinch of salt and one teaspoon of baking powder; add enough sweet milk to make a dough soft enough to handle. Place this crust on the uncooked apples. Then bake the dish in a hot oven for 30 minutes—or till the crust is done. Now take the crust right off the dish and set it aside, while you slip the dish back into the oven to continue baking till apples are very tender (covered with a pot cover). When cool, break the crust into small pieces, and stir it into the cooked apples. Serve with cream.

Baked Squash: Cut the squash into small portions, to make it easy to handle. Then pare each piece after discarding seeds and stringy portion. Fill your quart measure with small pieces of the pared squash, each piece cut about one inch square. Now turn the measureful of uncooked squash into a buttered baking dish with one-cup of molasses and one cup of butter. Stir well and bake 50 minutes, or till soft, in a moderate oven, keeping covered at first. Serve hot in the baking dish.

This chart shows how different feeds affect a hen's laying. Grains make many yolks but few whites.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow make practically an equal number of whites and yolks when fed together as directed.

The first two columns show what happens when you feed Purina Hen Chow alone—too many yolks. The next two columns show what happens when you feed Purina Chicken Chowder only—too many whites.

The last two columns give you a picture of the egg production you get from Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow fed according to directions.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

THE PORTRAIT IS NEARLY FINISHED
CHAPTER 90

It was nearly 3 o'clock when Walter came in. "Why aren't you asleep?" he asked, then went on to tell me of the opera. I asked who was in the box, if it were full.

"No, there were two vacant seats. I suppose someone disappointed at the last moment."

In fact Vashti said something of the sort. We went to Sherry's for supper! I gave them a dandy blowout!

"You treated to the supper?" I asked.

"Yes."

"Oh, Walter! Why didn't you let me know? I might have come."

"Do have a little common sense, Doreen! It would have looked nice, wouldn't it, for you to come tagging after us to supper when you weren't at the opera."

"I don't see that it would have been out of place for the host's wife to appear."

Walter made no reply, just went on describing in his quick way that they had to eat, and so forth.

"How many were at supper?"

"Five."

I sighed. Had I been there it would have been an even number. Then I told him his mother had taken me to a movie.

"Good for the Mater! I felt a bit guilty to go for such a lark while you sat home."

He hadn't acted as if he felt guilty, I thought, and I felt indignant that he should seem to imply that a motion picture made up to me.

"When will Miss Vernon's portrait be finished?"

Walter's mother asked at breakfast, after he had told her of his evening.

"It is nearly done. I shall exhibit it in the studio after it is finished. Connor says it is the best thing I have done. I didn't need his opinion. I knew it."

"Will she go back home then?" I asked.

"I hope not," his face changed subtly or so it seemed to me. "I am urging her to sit again. This time for an allegorical picture."

"But that puts her on a plane with the regular models," I interposed.

"Why should a wealthy girl consider such a thing?"

"There are people, Doreen," Walter replied with dignity, "who put art above personal feeling and considerations. Miss Vernon is intensely artistic and is interested in all forms of art."

"What did she wear to the opera last night?" I queried.

"A wonderful dress, some soft chiffon stuff that was the color of a glorious sunset. A daring dress, that only she could wear."

His mother talked on other subjects while I sat thinking of Walter and the girl who wore sunset gowns, and was so fascinating in them.

I liked pretty clothes too, but "pretty" just described the sort I could wear.

In anything at all bizarre, I looked a freak. And this girl could wear the most unusual colorings and look divine.

I had not been in the studio for several days. I went very little now. There was something about the manner of both Walter and Miss Vernon that prevented me. I felt plainly I was not wanted.

I had been shopping, and as it was nearly time for Walter to stop for the day I dropped in, thinking he would take me home.

As usual I entered very quietly fearing to disturb him. Miss Vernon was talking and I overheard her say: "No, Walter! It isn't right!" They had been Walter and Vashti to each other for some time.

"But what's wrong about it, dear?" he asked.

"We aren't either of us strong enough—no—don't ask me to sit again!"

Quietly I closed the door and crept away. So it had come to that, they could not trust themselves together! Blindly I left the building and made my way home.

It had come, that which I feared! They loved each other. Her words could have no other meaning.

"I have a headache," I told Jennie. "don't let me be disturbed." Then I locked myself in my room.

To Be Continued.

ANOTHER WAR IN NEAR EAST SEEMS CERTAIN AS CONFERENCE FAILS

Preparations in Full Swing for Conflict and Hostilities May Be Expected Immediately if Parley Breaks Down

Lausanne, Jan. 29.—The allies Near East peace terms were handed to the Turks today. As no time limit was set, it will be possible to reopen negotiations after the Ankara government has studied the terms.

Toulon, France, Jan. 29.—Orders were received today for the French cruiser Strasbourg to proceed at once to the Near East. Flotillas of torpedo boats and submarines are being prepared for services in Turkish waters.

London, Jan. 29.—Great Britain has taken ample precautions to meet any emergency in the Near East, it was announced at the foreign office today.

Foreign office officials said Turkey would not be given a time limit when the Near East peace treaty is presented to them for signing at Lausanne this week. They are hopeful that Ankara eventually will accept.

Paris, Jan. 29.—(Radio to L. N. S.)—Preparations were in full swing today for another war in the Near East. According to advices received here from various sources, hostilities may be expected immediately if the Near East peace conference at Lausanne breaks down.

A Belgrade dispatch to the Matin, says that George Tchitcherine, head of the Russian delegation at Lausanne, and Ismet Pasha, leader of the Turkish military alliance. According to this source, Russia promises to give Turkey active assistance by sending troops to Mesopotamia and by holding Roumania neutral by massing forces on the Bessarabian frontier.

(Bessarabia is a former Russian province that was seized by Roumania.) The Greeks in Thrace, estimated at 75,000 are armed with British war materials and are prepared to attack the Turks, according to advices from Geneva quoting the Tribune.

Telegrams from Ankara say that Turkish troops are prepared to march against both Constantinople and Mosul. Constantinople is held by allied armies, while the British claim Mosul.

Paris, Jan. 29.—Two threatening war clouds, one in central Europe and the other in the Near East, loomed upon the international horizon when the council of the League of Nations met here today. Before the meeting ends, the league may be called upon to arbitrate in two quarters—first, between Germany and France; second, between Turkey and the allies.

Earl Balfour of England will present Great Britain's Mosul claims tomorrow and probably will invite the league to intervene in the Near East in the interests of peace if the Lausanne conference fails.

Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden plans to seek league intervention in the Rhineland, if opportunity offers.

When the meeting in Luxembourg palace assembled shortly after 11 o'clock with Rene Viviani, former French premier, in the chair, it was announced that the formal agenda called only for the discussion of the League budget and routine matters, but that "other subjects undoubtedly will be introduced."

Earl Balfour, in his statement on the Mosul issue will contend that Great Britain's interests in the Mosul oil fields are based upon two considerations:

First, that Mosul is a part of Mesopotamia (for which England was granted a mandate), and not part of the Turkish state, as Ankara claims. Second, that the British have commercial concessions in Mosul which cannot be disregarded without a breach of international law and usage.

It is certain however that the league will take no action in the Near East unless Ankara refuses to sign the Lausanne treaty and threatens actual war.

Chancellor Zepel of Austria, is in Paris to report on the Austrian situation and the imperative necessity for outside assistance. He was informed he would be given a hearing late today.

EXPECT 6,000 TO ATTEND FARM MEET

Columbus, Jan. 29.—At least 6,000 Ohio rural residents are expected to attend the 11th annual farmers' week program which began today at the Ohio State University.

Meetings, dealing with practically all phases of buckeye state farming will be held morning, afternoon and evening throughout the week. There are numerous exhibits, including poultry, power machinery and rural newspapers. Prominent national and state agricultural experts will address the various meetings of farm organizations.

ITALY'S PROPOSAL REJECTED

Rome, Jan. 29.—Premier Mussolini has proposed, and the United States has declined, an invitation to participate in an international economic conference to solve the reparations and Ruhr problems. It was learned from an official source here. Italy is ready to co-operate in such a conference, but the offer will not be renewed unless the British and Americans show themselves to be in a receptive mood, it was declared.

STORE OFFICIAL SOUGHT AS SUM OF MONEY GONE

Pittsburgh Man Hunted by Detectives as Charges Preferred.

New York, Jan. 29.—While detectives all over the United States are seeking Mortimer E. Lautman, Pittsburgh department store official who disappeared Thursday with $50,000 and against whom a charge of grand larceny has been preferred by Sol Michaels, New York lace manufacturer, his brother, Dr. Louis J. Lautman of Brooklyn today scouted the idea that he had absconded with the funds belonging to others.

"Knowing my brother as I do, I can not believe such a thing," he said. "But if that is not enough, I will say that I and the members of our family personally will make good whatever amounts are involved."

Dr. Lautman asserted that at the moment of his disappearance his brother had assets in a Brooklyn bank more than sufficient to cover the amount charged against him.

Detectives are watching steamships departing to the orient, as Lautman's business often took him there in the past.

Michaels, in the information he furnished to police, claims he gave Lautman $20,000 for the purchase of stock in the business and that he had neither received the stock nor his money back.

NINE HURT IN BLAST

ONE TIME IMMIGRANT GIVES AWAY FORTUNE

Dayton, O., Jan. 29.—Patrolman George E. Clark, died early today and Daniel McDermott, 29, negro, is dying in the hospital as the result of a Sunday morning gun fight, which followed when Clark ordered McDermott to throw up his hands. Clark and his companion were hunting a burglar at the time. The colored man responded to the command, by drawing a knife. Then shooting began. Patrick J. Roach, another Patrolman joined in the firing from the opposite side of the street.

McDermott made his getaway and boarded a street car but fell. A blood transfusion operation was performed last night to save Clark but it was unsuccessful.

No gun was found on McDermott, who explained his resistance by saying he thought the officer was a hold up man.

ONE TIME IMMIGRANT GIVES AWAY FORTUNE

Forty-five years ago Gustav Hottinger went to Chicago, an immigrant from Vienna. He had $1,090 and, with three others, he formed the Northwestern Terra Cotta Co. The assets of the corporation are now listed at $4,000,000. Hottinger has now arranged to present to the original six employees and officers of the firm the bulk of his stock. He will keep only preferred stock at 7 per cent, worth $1,550,000.

THREE MAY DIE AS TANK BLOWS UP IN CHICAGO

Hundreds of Families Panicked Stricken as Explosion Rocks Section

FELT FOR A MILE

Illuminating Gas Generator Cause of Accident That Terrorizes City.

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Nine men were injured and scalded and hundreds of families were thrown into fright by a terrific explosion today in the plant of the Chicago Byproducts Coke Company.

Death threatens three of the injured. Eleven other workers narrowly escaped with their lives.

An illuminating gas generator tank blew up. The neighborhood was in confusion following a pop and a road heard all over Chicago. Gas smoke and steam enveloped the district for blocks. Clanging ambulances and police patrols groped through the haze. Street cars, elevated trains and autos were forced to slow down or stop entirely because of the artificial fog. Buildings trembled for a mile around. Occupants fearing an earthquake, ran into the icy streets. Half a dozen police stations sent men in automobiles when several reports had it that several had been killed. The building, 300 feet by 150 feet, in which the blast occurred was damaged from $10,000 to $15,000. Twenty men at work there were flung pell mell in all directions by the concussion. All were choking and gasping in the steam and gas when firemen and police dragged them into fresh air.

SHELL SHOCKED SOLDIER TRIES TO ATTACK KING

King George of England is Unhurt—Man Is Arrested

London, Jan. 29.—A former British soldier, suffering from shell shock, attempted to attack King George with his crutch at the St. Pancras railway station today.

The ex-soldier was arrested. King George and Queen Mary had just arrived from Sandringham castle, the royal couple were passing through the railway station acknowledging cheers of onlookers, an ex-serviceman hobbled forward upon crutches. Little attention was paid to him as it has been the custom to allow crippled soldiers to approach the king, sometimes for a shake of the hand.

As he drew near the soldier swung a crutch to strike the king, but he was seized by policemen and hurried off to a police station.

At the station the prisoner appeared to be suffering from mental aberrations. After medical examination he was removed to a sanitarium for treatment. The police say he has been responsible for other disturbances.

King George did not seem disturbed by the incident. It is understood that Queen Mary desired to return to London so as to be near her daughter, Viscountess Lascelles, in whose household an interesting event is expected shortly.

WEEKS APPROVES GUARD STRENGTH

Washington, Jan. 29.—A minimum peace time strength of 250,000 men for the national guard was recommended in a report of a committee of the national guard and general staff officers, who have been studying the problem for more than a year, and was approved by Secretary Weeks.

The plan outlined by the committee, was based on an efficient organization of 18 infantry and four cavalry divisions, and would mean reduction from the present authorized paper strength of the national guard, which is 435,000 men.

In addition to the infantry and cavalry divisions, the guard, under the plan submitted, would consist of 130 companies of harbor defense troops, 12 infantry regiments to be allotted, and other units necessary to a well-balanced force, such as tanks, anti-air forces and artillery units.

STREUBENVILLE, JAN. 29.—The GrGreat Ruhr

Essen, Jan. 29.—The Great Ruhr tries was completely isolated today.

General DeGoutte, French commander in chief, has issued a proclamation tightening the state of siege into actual martial law in all areas held by French and Belgian troops.

German officials regard Gen. DeGoutte's action as a move to break down completely German resistance. Serious property destruction was reported from various quarters.

Railway traffic is paralyzed. A few passenger and military trains were moved but freight transportation is at a stand still.

Telephone and telegraph communication is crippled by the strike of German employees.

Berlin sent word that appeals for assistance were being sent out for the German strikers in the Rhineland. It is questioned however whether the French military authorities will allow food trains to enter the Ruhr so long as the German workers defy the occupational forces with strikers.

French officers claim that German civilian officials are encouraging disorders.

Violence has spread from the Westphalian coal and industrial zones southward to other areas taken over by the French long ago.

Representatives of German mine owners say that no German coal is being moved into Belgium or France. French railway workers who have been sent into the Ruhr are practically helpless. Railway tracks have been torn up and telegraph wires cut, preventing traffic.

There are approximately 200,000 German men and women workers idle today in the Rhineland and Ruhr as the result of strikes or shutdowns due to fuel shortage and paralysis of rail and water transportation, said a dispatch from Essen.

Rome, Jan. 29.—Russia will not intervene in Germany with troops "unless a bolshevist revolution breaks out, in which event the soviet will assist the German reds," said a Moscow dispatch quoting Russian officials.

WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE WHEN HUSBAND INJURED

Takes Poison When She Learns That Spouse Severely Hurt in Mill Accident—Physicians Fight for Both Lives.

Stuebenville, Jan. 29.—Receiving word that her husband had been injured in a mill accident Mrs. Dora Waltz, 20, swallowed five bichloride of mercury tablets last night.

She is in a dying condition at a local hospital. Her husband, Fred Waltz, 22, is in the same hospital suffering from injuries and says he does not want to live if his wife dies.

The report reaching Mrs. Waltz of her husband's injuries was greatly exaggerated. After brooding for an hour the woman retired to her bedroom and swallowed the poison tablets. She reached the hospital shortly after her husband. Physicians are now endeavoring to save the two lives.

LEE WILL RESIGN RAILROAD POSITION

Cleveland, Jan. 29.—Will G. Lee, veteran president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will shortly resign his position to take up the work of directing the Steigel Myer Manufacturing Company of Seymour, Ind., a corporation with $10,000,000 capital recently formed for the manufacture of safety appliances.

"I shall quit my present office as soon as the company gets well under way," Mr. Lee said today. "We shall begin the erection of a plant within ninety days, and in my opinion I can give as good service to men in this work as in that in which I am at present engaged."

FIRE TRAPS HUNDRED GIRLS IN DANCE HALL

Flames Burst Into Hoboken Ballroom Shortly After Last of Dancers Make Way to Safety Early Monday Morning

Hoboken, N. J., Jan. 29.—Frantic with fright, their eyes blinded by smoke, 100 girls stood screaming at the front windows of a dance hall on the second floor early today when they were trapped by a blaze which started on the first floor.

Many of them were prevented from jumping only by the strenuous efforts of their escorts.

Four hundred men and women were in the hall when the first wisp of smoke curled its way up the stairs.

All but 100 were able to leave by the exits before dense smoke barred the way. The remainder, clad in flimsy ball gown, fought to get to the windows until employees of the place secured ladders and aided them to the street.

Shortly after the last of the dancers had been led to safety, flames burst through the ceiling and into the dance hall.

Smoke began permeating through adjoining tenements and about twenty families were routed from their beds and either carried down fire escapes or led to safety by firemen.

WILL EXAMINE ALL HIGHWAY BIDS NOW

Columbus, Jan. 27.—Whether contracts will be let, based upon bids just received by State Highway Director Herlihy, for improvement of 24 miles of Ohio's highways, involving an estimated expenditure of about $500,000, will depend, it is said upon an examination to be made of the bids by state finance director Baker.

These bids include: Dayton-Greenville road, 3.95 miles; Arthur Construction Company, Kenton, $131,923.46 on Kentucky rock asphalt and $163,229.10 on Kentucky rock asphalt; Jackson-Ironton road, 4.433 miles, O. M. Junk, Chillicothe, $137,974.42 reinforced concrete; Mt. Gilead-Mansfield road, Morrow County, 6.322 miles, Arthur Construction Company $168,299.10 on Kentucky rock asphalt; $173,987.50 on bituminous concrete and $172,167.50 on reinforced concrete; Mansfield-Millersburg road, Bridgeport, Stout and Stout, Stoutville, $18,891. Grading and constructing drainage structures, Charles Drake, Nashville, $15,195.35; Youngstown-Conneaut Road, Trumbull County, 2.8 miles, Evans and Evans, Hubbard, $137,161.98 on brick and bituminous macadam.

Empty shells picked up near the scene of the Matthews shooting by police, showed that the hammer of the pistol did not strike the primer of the cartridge directly in the center. The cartridge itself was of a peculiar type, .32 caliber and steel-jacketed. Cartridges similar to those used in the local killing were found in the Vandervoort lot that had been taken to Washington, D. C., by Sheriff Sharp and were brought here for the test.

They were found to vary slightly from the type used in the Matthews killing, and for that reason exactly similar shells will be used in the future tests.

AUTHORITIES OF INDIANA TOWN FIGHTING RIOTS

Two Miners Killed In Trouble Between Races

Blanford, Ind., Jan. 29.—Tension gripped this city today as the authorities prepared to prevent further anti-black demonstrations.

Two unidentified men were killed early today and two others wounded including Sheriff Harry Newland, during a clash between a posse and a group of miners.

The men who were killed were Serbian miners.

The outbreak came as a climax to more than a week of tension, which had existed since an attack on a 12-year-old white girl. The assault, was followed by a warning to all the negro miners to leave the country.

"Trouble" developed early Sunday morning, when a group of miners attending a dance, inflamed with liquor fired several shots into a store conducted by negroes, who were involving stock.

A posse was rushed to the scene. Shooting broke forth. The outbreak was not quelled until two of the miners fell dead.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 29.—A demand that federal authorities clean up Blanford, Ind., so called "worst town in America," where saloons were said to have run wide open with few interruptions since prohibition began, was made by Gov. Warren T. McCray today, following the wounding early this morning of Sheriff Harry Newland and the killing of two Serbians.

AREWELL SERVICE
TENDERED PASTOR
SUNDAY EVENING

An audience representative every Protestant Church of the city attended the union services at the First United Presbyterian Church, Sunday evening, held under the auspices of the Xenia Ministerial Association, honoring the Rev. D. D. Dodds, former pastor of that Church, who is leaving this week to take up his new pastorate at Pittsburgh, Pa.

A farewell address by the Rev. Mr. Dodds featured the service, in which every minister of the city took part. The program was presided over by the Rev. C. P. Proudfoot, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, and opened with the invocation by the Rev. V. F. Brown; responsive reading, by the Rev. W. H. Tifford; a scripture lesson by the Rev. G. A. Scott and prayer by the Rev. E. W. Middleton. The address of felicitation was given by the Rev. B. B. Uhl, of the First Lutheran Church, who expressed the good will of the ministers of the city, and the congregation to Dr. Dodds and his family. At the close of his address of farewell, the Rev. Dodds on the authority of the Xenia Presbytery, declared the pulpit of the First United Presbyterian Church vacant. At the close of the service, prayer was pronounced by the Rev. A. J. Parstenberger, of the Friends Church, and the Rev. Proudfoot with benediction by Rev. R. E. Brown. The Rev. Dodds received the members of the congregation at the pulpit at the close of the service.

Sunday morning the Rev. Mr. Dodds preached at the O. S. and S. O. Home Chapel. He and his family will leave by motor Tuesday morning for Pittsburgh, where he will take up his new work.

BENDER MEASURE WILL PASS WITH NO OPPOSITION

Columbus, Jan. 29.—The house of representatives is expected to pass the Bender senate bill, proposing prohibition law amendments.

The measure provides that those furnishing death-dealing liquor be prosecuted for murder, that solicitors of liquor be placed in the same category with those who offer it for sale and that the manufacture of liquor be made felony punishable by penitentiary sentence instead of a misdemeanor.

Republican leaders are expected to sidetrack the resolution offered by Senator Burke of Elvira, requesting President Harding to call a conference of world powers, by referring his bill to a committee, where it will be allowed to die a peaceful death, while the house is expected to adopt the resolution of Representative Herbert of Franklin county, expressing confidence in President Harding's ability to handle the foreign situation without assistance from the Ohio general assembly and declaring the assembly should confine itself to solving state problems.

The house taxation committee announced the final meeting on the Taft taxation measure for Tuesday night.

There will be a public hearing in the senate tomorrow evening on the Burke bill to establish a minimum wage board for regulating wages of women and children in industry.

The nurse anesthesia bill, introduced by Senator Kumbler of Preble county, is to be up for hearing before the senate health committee tomorrow morning. This question always has provoked a heated controversy between members of the medical profession, who are divided on it, hospitals and nurses. Kumbler's bill would repeal the law passed several years ago giving nurses right to administer anesthetics.

COX SAYS THAT INVASION MISTAKE

Springfield, O., Jan. 29.—Former Governor Cox delivered an address here on international affairs. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Cox said he regarded the invasion of Germany by the French as a mistake, "because the time has come when no question should be settled by force of arms." He also declared the "time has come to take this thing out of politics" and that "American leadership must be established that inspires a sustaining public opinion."

"The administration can put an end to partisan controversy if it forms international relationships through which our moral and economic agencies can function. The people are in no humor for specious or capricious criticism and there will doubtless be none. If the league of nations is not to be availed of, then an alternative procedure must be created."

ISLANDS THRIVE
ON BOOZE TRADE
SAYS LAWMAKER

Washington, Jan. 29.—Representative Rogers of Massachusetts issued a statement here declaring that liquor is now being smuggled into the United States from the Bahama Islands at the rate of 1,200,000 gallons annually.

Mr. Rogers stated that while the government and population of that British colony, getting "relatively immense revenues from the traffic," are absolutely indisposed to sympathize with efforts to check it. He said his statement was based on official data furnished him by the state department.

From the duties on whisky alone, Mr. Rogers said, the islands are deriving an income three times as great as their government revenues from all sources in 1918, while the estimated profits of those interested in the traffic, including members of the elected legislative body, are said to be enriching.

Mr. Rogers said the state department report "read like a book of fiction" in describing the mushroom growth—still continuing—of what he classed as "an established practice, with great capital and organized procedure, of running liquor into the United States through the screen erected by prohibition enforcement agents."

Up until 1919, Mr. Rogers asserted, the annual imports of liquor from the Bahamas were 50,000 gallons, while for 1922 they amounted to 1,200,000 gallons.

"The Bahamas are certainly the oasis of 'dry America,'" his statement said. "To the last quart, I am advised, the liquors are shipped to the United States. All told, 2,000,000 gallons have found their way into the country, all the way from Norfolk, Philadelphia and New York as far east as Boston."

"The vessels, nearly all flying the British flag, will clear for the French port of St. Pierre, Miquelon or for Tampico, Mexico. In the first instance, the vessels really unload their cargoes off New York or some other North Atlantic port. This was the case of the ships which kept the 'dry navy' so busy beyond the three-mile line off New York a week or two ago. In the second instance—that of Tampico clearance—the actual destination is New Orleans or some gulf port. As a matter of fact, the ships never proceed to the ports for which they have cleared, but lie off the American coast and are met by prearrangement outside the three-mile limit by small but speedy American motor boats."

Washington, Jan. 29.—Charges that 2,000,000 gallons of liquor have been smuggled into the United States from the West Indies since the inauguration of prohibition are substantially correct, it was admitted at the State Department today.

The charges coincide with official reports from American consular officers in the islands.

Clint Beal's family of Upper Bellbrook pike, is convalescing after a severe siege with grip.

Faubus School has been closed for several days on account of illness of Mr. Thompson, teacher. Many of the pupils, also, are on the sick list.

Morris Jones and father, who have been living on the Beal place, on the Upper Bellbrook pike, have moved to Crawford Smith's tenant house, on the Beavertown pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Haines are both on the sick list, suffering from the grip.

The family of Walter Hess, of the Upper Bellbrook pike, has joined the majority with every member of the family on the grip list.

The annual upheaval is beginning to take on motion. February will see many changes among farm tenants in this locality and several sales.

CONGRESS IS IN HOME STRETCH OF LONG RACE

Washington, Jan. 29.—Congress today entered the home stretch of its long, troublous legislative race, in exactly five weeks the present session dies, with numerous important problems still undecided.

Paramountly, from the administration's point of view, remains the ship subsidy bill, which apparently has been successfully and permanently sidetracked by legislative jockeying of its opponents.

There seemed little possibility today that the shipping bill ever can be forced to a vote at this session. This, even the most hopeful supporters believe would mean its death, for the personnel of the new congress, is known to be even more antagonistic to the bill than the present.

What hope the administration held for passage of the merchant marine act has practically vanished with the new complexities of the farm credits situation in the Senate. Until a few days ago every indication pointed to clear sailing for the Lenroot-Anderson bill, and there was ample reason to believe it would pass this week.

Now passage seems remote as a result of announcement by Senator Norbeck, Republican of North Dakota he would this week offer his $250,000,000 foreign credits bill as a substitute for the Lenroot measure, sponsored by the administration. Norbeck has the support of the "farm bloc" and the Agriculture committee whose members feel the bill more adequately fills the needs of the farmers for it provides greater market facilities, held to be more essential than domestic credits.

This bill provides for financing operations of foreign purchasers of American farm products, under the administration of the war finance corporation.

Such farm leaders as Senators Norris, Republican of Nebraska, Chairman of the agriculture committee and Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, are ready to go along with Norbeck to any limit in securing favorable action on the bill.

While the new farm credits fight is smoldering, another class, perhaps even more bitter, looms when the army supply bill is reported, either Tuesday or Wednesday. It is expected efforts will be made to have this measure temporarily displace rural relief bills.

The senate's "small army" group wants to cut down the size of the personnel and slash the rivers and harbors appropriation.

This may precipitate another long and involved discussion of foreign relations for to the measure Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho, may attach his resolution authorizing the president to call a world economic conference. At any rate the Idaho Senator has served notice he will bring the resolution before the senate this week. When he does that the "bitter enders" and the "irreconcilables" are prepared to discuss at considerable length the administration's policy with respect to reparations problems.

Once the foreign relations discussion begins there is no telling how many days it may continue. Democrats may use it as an excuse to delay action on the army bill and the ship subsidy.

Two attempts to restrict debate on the shipping bill have been blocked. It is not believed another effort will be made for Senator Brookhart has announced he is "ready to read enough scriptures to talk the bill to death, if necessary."

The chances now are the administration leaders will not try to bring up the shipping bill until the last few days of the session when a final endeavor will be made to jam it through with night sessions.

ZIMMERMAN

The revival meeting in charge of Rev. Haines is being well attended. There have been several additions to the church. The meetings will continue during this week.

Mrs. Lambert Neff, of Alpha, is getting along nicely, after undergoing an operation, at Miami Valley Hospital, which was performed by Dr. Marcellus Coy.

Ralph Shoup is able to be out after a severe attack of grip.

There have been many cases of "flu" or grip in the "Big Woods" neighborhood, among them being five children of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tobias.

Mr. Bas Greene had a very successful sale, Wednesday. He will move from the Kiefaber farm, where he has lived for many years, to the farm he has purchased in the New Liberty (New Germany) neighborhood.

Mrs. Wm. Glatfelter, of Dayton, attended services at this place, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Charlotte Lenz spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. De Board.

Mrs. Andy O'Hara and daughter, Frances, were guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. Ed Herman, in Dayton, Saturday night and Sunday.

Albert Greene and Edison O'Hara were dinner guests of Norman Huston, recently.

Mrs. Day and sons had a sale on the Huston farm, in Sugar Creek township. Things sold well.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TAMPA ROWS OVER
NEW VAGRANT LAW

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 29.—An appeal to the supreme court of Florida has been taken by the city of Tampa in an effort to continue the operation of the present ordinance against vagrants which was declared unconstitutional recently by Circuit Judge F. M. Robles on the ground that the ordinance places the burden of proof upon the defendants instead of upon the city.

In getting permission from the City Commissioners to take the appeal, City Attorney H. S. Hampton stated that the wording of the city ordinance here is similar to that in successful operation in nearly every city in the country and to have it repealed would seriously handicap the Police Department. In case the decision of the Circuit Court holds when the case is brought to the Supreme Court, a new ordinance will be passed, worded differently.

The Police Department, it is declared, has a hard time even as it is to enforce the laws against the idle class and just now is engaged in waging a war against the "higher up" class of vagrants, who in many cases are reported to be heads of bootlegging, moonshining, Chinese smuggling and automobile stealing gangs. The decision of the Circuit

Miss Uhl has been much interested in Art and her work, has been praised by the teachers as well as the members of the Art Club, her invitation to enter the club coming as a complete surprise. She was immediately placed on the Poster and Bulletin committee of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harner spent Sunday in this city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schmidt of W. Third Street. Mrs. Harner returned to New York from here and Mr. Harner went back to Indianapolis where he is now located.

Jane Harner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harner of West Church Street is again able to be out after having been confined to her home with grip.

Judge C. H. Kyle, who has been confined to his home for the past four weeks, has recovered sufficiently to be out Monday for the first time.

Mr. E. F. Canby entertained the members of his Sunday School class of boys at a chicken dinner at the First M. E. Church Thursday evening. A tempting dinner was served and later various games were enjoyed.

Mrs. P. H. Flynn, of North Detroit Street, is spending several days in Nicholasville, Ky., where she is the guest of Mrs. H. C. Muir.

Mr. Robert Owens, who has been suffering from the grip and confined to his home on West Third Street for a week, is now able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Coy (Blanche Heals) of Dayton, are the parents of a son, born January 28.

Styles BY LENORE

Extremely practical for the sudden changes of wind and weather—and there are these changes in the pleasant of places—is a short coat of soft wool fabric. The color is yellow like the imprisoned sunshine of a but-tercup.

Another type of coat that is liked a lot this season is the straight box effect with a tie that fastens the coat at the side.

This style of coat I have seen in nearly all the shops in beige, green, and yellow, in combination with crepe de chine or kasha skirts, always white and nearly always pleated.

Many of the well-known French houses have been exploiting leather for sports. But Leather as soft as silk-fabric.

Premet made a chic mannish coat of supple suede, with pockets and belt bound in shiny patent leather. A striking jumper of red leather simply embroidered with silver, and worn with a pleated crepe de chine skirt, is one of the most effective contributions of Molyneux.

Mrs. L. H. Finney, of the Finney Millinery store, left Monday for New York and Cleveland, to buy spring millinery stock.

Mrs. Jesse Nesmuth, of Dayton, formerly Miss Katherine McGiven, of Cedarville, who has been seriously ill at the Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, has recovered sufficiently to be removed to her home.

Miss Etta Wilkins, Mrs. Lemma Lynn, and son, Archie, Miss Hazel Johnson, of Columbus, and Mrs. Margaret Barton, motored to Columbus, Sunday, and were entertained by Miss Johnson, at six o'clock dinner at the Marneen.

Miss Fathie Rankin, of Columbus, spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rankin, of East Main Street.

Mrs. A. H. Cosler, of Trebeins, who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.

Mr. R. C. Britton bookkeeper at the .avev Wholesale grocery company, is leaving the first of February for Richmond, Ind., where he will enter a similar position with the company at that branch. His place at the local office will be taken by Mr. C. E. Stevenson, of Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson will come to this city next week, and take an apartment in the Shoup Apartments on North Collier Street.

Mrs. Charles Brewer, of South West Street, is suffering from a painful injury to her foot, received when she fell down a flight of stairs at her home Friday evening. The extent of the injury cannot be determined, attending physicians taking an X-ray Monday, to see if any broken bones had resulted.

Miss Mina St. John, of East Second street, received a badly sprained ankle, when she fell Friday. The injury has kept her confined to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oral Luck and two children, of Dayton, were week end guests of Mr. Luck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Luck, of Elm Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cannon, of Dayton, attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Blair, in this city Saturday.

Mrs. Lester Bowers of South West Street, is ill with grip.

Thelma and William Anderson, children of Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, of Chestnut Street, have been ill with grip, but are now improving.

DR. GRANT BLAMES CAPITALISTS

New York, Jan. 29.—Rev. Dr. Percy Stickney Grant—under fire for alleged heretical utterances—charged in his sermon at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Ascension, that the fight against him was inspired by capitalist interests, working "under the surface," rather than by any true religious zeal to purge the church of apostates. He indicated broadly that he intended to continue preaching his conception of a "humanistic" religion even if he had to "exchange the marbled halls of his church for a street corner soap box."

Mr. A. S. Parson, of Rushville, Ind. is expected to arrive in this city Monday evening for a visit with his sister, Mrs. A. S. Frazer, of West Third Street.

URBANA FIVE WINS OVER LOCAL TEAM

Making up for a 60 to 23 defeat handed them last year on the Rink Court here, Urbana High School sought and obtained revenge at Urbana Saturday night, and turned the tables on Xenia Central High court team to the tune of 41 to 19.

The first half found Coach "Puss" Burgner's team trailing the Urbana lads but still within reaching distance, but the second period Urbana showed a more consistent offensive power and gamboled away easily with the victory.

Urbana was fortunate enough to have three of last year's athletes left over for this season's team, and all three of these lads showed that they have benefited by experience. Woods and Edmonson are veterans at forward and these lads were large contributors to Urbana's scoring records. Woods garnered six field goals while Edmonson's total was eight. McConnell at guard, is another veteran and his foot shooting added to the general total.

Wooley, at forward, was high score man for the locals, with four field goals and three fouls to his credit. LeSourd got away for three field goals, but could not connect from the free line. The guarding of the blue and white five was well color throughout the pasting and the let-down in the second period was considerable. The lineup and summary:

Xenia—19 Urbana—41
Wooley, L. F. Edmonson
LeSourd, R. F. Woods
Schwab, C. Donovan
Currie, A. L. G. Knight
Zell, R. G. McConnell
Substitutions: Xenia—Smith for Zell for Currie; Urbana, Morrison for McConnell, McConnell for Donovan, Field Goals: LeSourd 3, Wooley 4, Schwab 1, Woods 6, Edmonson 8, Donovan 1. Foul goals: Wooley 3 out of 8, LeSourd 0 out of 6, McConnell 11 out of 20. Referee: Northup, Antioch.

Two visiting athletes will play under the colors of John Roan Post, American Legion basketball team Monday night when the locals meet the New York Defenders at the Rink for the second time this season.

Sol Butler, the Olympic athlete and Rhone of the Defenders, who will play with the Legion five during the rest of the season will play with the Defenders Monday night in their last game of the season with that team. For that reason Coach Dean Mohr, who is now managing the local quintet, has obtained the services of Spears, the Springfield star and "Rock" Anderson, of the Cincinnati "Y" team to play with the locals Monday night.

The lineup Monday night will be Joe Anderson and Captain Winters at the forwards, Duff at center and "Chic" Smith, Spears or "Rock" Anderson at the guards. After Monday night, Rhone and Sol Butler, the latter the outstanding colored athlete of the country now, will alternate with the local man, Smith, at the guards. The team will get into action with the new lineup next Sunday.

Making Men and Women But Losing Money

Few people realize the great difference between the annual cost of educating a student and the amount that he or she pays to the University. They have no conception of the investment that Ohio Wesleyan makes each year in her boys and girls, for which no charge can be made.

Ohio Wesleyan cannot charge students as much as their schooling costs, without closing the door of opportunity to those of moderate means, who see in Christian education a chance to render the highest service to the World.

This University no more seeks to make money than do our public schools;—the public schools make up their income from taxes, while Ohio Wesleyan always has, and doubtless always will have, to depend upon income from endowment funds to make up her operating deficiencies.

CLARK HUTCHISON.

We doubt if there was a man in Xenia more beloved than Clark Hutchison. And now we shall see his pleasant face in life no more. This is a sad thought to thousands of people. It will seem almost like a community loss—as with the death of John Wanamaker to Philadelphia. He had stood in our community as Wanamaker had stood in his—an emblem of integrity, virtue and christian uprightness. And what more can be asked of any man?

What an ideal married life was that of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Hutchison. Sixty years of loving association—sixty years of delightful companionship—sixty years of affectionate connection. To how few does God give such an inestimable blessing.

And what an ideal death was that of Clark Hutchison. No long sickness—no protracted suffering—no dread of that which is inevitable to all of us. God simply took him. If we could have our choice about the manner of our passing away, we could not ask a pleasanter one.

John Foster, a celebrated English author, used language that would be appropriate to Mr. Hutchison when he said:

"Death is not, to the christian, what it has often been called, 'paying the debt of nature.' No, it is not paying a debt; it is rather like bringing a note to a bank to obtain solid gold in exchange for it. The old person brings a cumbersome body which is nothing worth, and which you could not wish to long retain, you lay it down and receive for it, from the treasury of Heaven, Youth and Immortality."

So, Clark Hutchison is gone, and the best thing any of us could do would be to imitate his virtues, and his exemplary life, to the best of our ability. This is the best way to show our esteem for his lovely character.

TRAVELERS AGAIN ROAM THE WORLD.

Domestic and foreign travel for the coming year is liable to break all records, according to Ralph E. Towle, head of the American Express Travel department. "The return of the nations of the world to peaceful pursuits once more permits tens of thousands of travelers to again roam the world," said Mr. Towle. "While the cost of transportation has increased two-thirds, the purchasing power of the dollar abroad has more than doubled. The tales brought back by returning tourists this past year, of the bargains to be had on the continent for American dollars, has done much to stimulate foreign travel and create inquiries even at this early date for this year's travel."

"In 1922 approximately 200,000 traveled across the Atlantic and spread out over the continent. It is safe to say that each tourist spent on an average of $1,000, or a total of $200,000,000. This year with increased facilities and better conditions here and abroad, I look for at least a 20 per cent increase in these figures."

"For every dollar spent by the traveling public abroad five dollars are spent in this country. Take Atlantic City, for instance where some 10,000,000 people were entertained last year. If each of these spent on an average of $25, the total would be $250,000,000. I estimate that those who visited the National Parks last year spent $300,000,000 and the season in Florida cost the tourist another $300,000,000."

"Ten years ago that branch of travel known as pleasure, cruises was still in its infancy. Last year the seven seas were full of cruising ships and there seemed to be an inexhaustible supply of travelers demanding space on board these ships."

NATURAL GAS SAVES THIRTY MILLION TONS OF COAL.

An idea of the magnitude of the industry may be gained from the fact that more than thirty million tons of coal would be required annually to replace the use of natural gas.

The drilling of wells to tap the gas reservoirs in the earth is only the beginning of the great task of supplying natural gas. The consumers of gas are often hundreds of miles away, and to deliver the elusive fuel huge pipe lines must be constructed through the hills, mountains and over rivers, and the gas forced through these lines by enormous compressors of thousands of horse-power, built at intervals along the lines.

The pipe lines must be patrolled day and night to guard against leakage or breakage, and emergency repair squads must be ever ready and vigilant to instantly repair damage done by land-slide or flood.

It is an alarming and serious fact that this unequalled fuel, created by nature for the needs of man and developed and distributed by such enormous expenditure of energy and capital, is being thoughtlessly and prodigally wasted.

Will you, as one of the twelve million natural gas users, help stop this waste, in order that the supply may be perpetuated for your own future use? You can do this with an immediate cash saving to yourself and without curailing your needs—simply by the use of proper appliance—proper adjustment of burners—proper mixture of gas and air.

HALLELEIGH, THE SALOON IS GONE FOREVER.

One of the strongest proofs with which to combat the arguments of those who maintain that prohibition is not accomplishing anything in America is to be found in the many old corners in every city or town of any size where once flourished saloons, and where now are prosperous bakeries, banks, clothing stores, and such like. No more is really necessary. Who cannot remember such corners, which were in fact a disgrace to their neighborhoods and which now are a credit? Who does not remember the cry, which was heard on all sides, that the pay envelope was robbed of most of its contents by the saloon's hungry till before the home expenses were even thought about, and who hears such a cry today to anything like the same extent? That ancient and horrible institution, the openly conducted saloon, is gone, and with it many of the most terrible memories of but a few years ago to thousands of families. It is true there is some illicit drinking, but at heart America is dry, and the proof of it is in the fact that the saloon is gone forever.

The first daily newspaper in the United States was the Penny Packet, issued in 1784.

Motor car production in France during 1921 is estimated at 53,000 passenger cars and 2,500 trucks.

The national forests of Alaska contain 20,000,000 acres of timber suitable for general consumption.

Carbonated soda water manufactured in Oklahoma last year amounted to 77,500,000 seven-ounce bottles.

THE SENATORIAL WRECKING CREW

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

The establishment of a stretch of road connecting the Upper and Lower Jeffersonville roads near Jamestown and known as the McKillop road, is causing a good deal of interest among the real estate owners in that locality.

The Pen Handle railroad company is arranging to establish an office of civil engineering in this city and two engineers will be located in Xenia to look after some improvements which are in contemplation by the company out of this city. The Miami Grain Company of this city has bought the Corwin elevator Mr. J. Chas. Spahr of Clinton to be in charge. The company also owns an elevator at Allentown, and the firm is well known to the grain men throughout the section.

J. H. Lackey of Jamestown, was elected treasurer of the Ohio Poland China Record Association at the annual meeting held at Dayton yesterday.

LARGE NOSE PORES

The perfect complexion, like the perfect disposition, is seldom met with outside a novel. The most common complexion flaw is a collection of enlarged pores around the nostrils, usually in that little curved part that outlines the nostrils or perhaps all over the nose.

The reason is that the circulation of the blood is more sluggish at this than any other part of the body. So the skin is less active, and less readily throws off the accumulations of matter that pass out of the body through all the pores. And because of this very sluggishness these pores are the hardest to reduce once they have enlarged.

However, here's the method if you find that you too, have this imperfection.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as tion—and you are rarely blessed if a study of your skin in strong sunlight doesn't reveal something of the sort. First, eliminate from your diet all heavy or sweet foods that you think might be taxing the digestion. Second, make sure there is no constipation; indeed, even if everything seems normal it wouldn't hurt to take a tablespoonful of white mineral oil a day for awhile.

The waste of the body must pass off freely or the pores will be overworked.

Third, take a daily hot bath. This will cleanse the pores all over the body, relieving any possible strain on any one of them.

And fourth, use either the Black-head Cleansing Powder, which will absorb the collected matter that has enlarged the pores originally, or any very good astringent. Bathe the face thoroughly, with mild soap and hot water, or if this is too drying, rub with cleansing cream and then use the soap and water. Follow with a cold rinse, an ice rub or a spraying with toilet water. Mrs. F. R.—If the warts are very bad have a doctor remove them with cautery. Very often mild ones can be removed at home by rubbing them with washing soda or with a mixture of olive oil or salt. Discouraged—If both the arms and the legs are too thin it is quite likely that you are underweight. Take deep breathing and arm exercises, walk a great deal and dance whenever possible. Take six tablespoonfuls of olive oil, two with each meal, or drink about a quart of very rich milk every day. Tomorrow—Some Interesting Letters.

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

OUT OF JAIL.

I was sorry when my niece killed a lady with a rock; sorry when the fresh police put her under key and lock; but a jury her peers, moved to pity by her tears, let her down with six years, and she smiled and left the dock. Clara—that's my niece name—was in luck, we must agree, and she should have played the game, but she hankered to be free; so she sawed her prison bars while her jailors smoked cigars, and beneath the midnight stars she went romping o'er the lea. Had she journeyed to the pen like a pious, moral maid, she would soon be free again, for the years so swiftly fade; and her sentence being done, she could buy herself a gun and enjoy all kinds of fun, of the peeler unafraid. Now she is a hunted thing, like the coyote on the hill; while the weary years take wing, Clara will be hunted still; when her foolish head is gray she will dread the light of day, and the cop across the way will impart a deadly chill. Take your bitters when they're due, for postponement is no friend; though they be a ghastly brew, let the noxious draught descend; you may, with a heedless smile, dodge old Nemesis a while, but the bitters, sour as bile, must be taken in the end.

Today's Talk

PEOPLE—ALL SORTS

No place is quite so lonely as that place where people are not.

It does seem as though every human with whom we come in contact has something for each of us, if we will but take it.

You may quickly size up this person or that one and say that he isn't worth while. But you never know. The outward garment tells but little. Even the contour of the face conceals much that is hidden deeper.

Our stranger neighbor may some day become our best friend. And he whom you may wrongly misjudge today may tomorrow stand for you the staunchest.

The truth is that in people—of all sorts—lies the happiness for which our immortal souls most long. For from those of our own kind alone are we able to draw our richest rewards in association, in inspiration and understanding.

The more people you know and the more people you read about, the more you are prepared to battle your own life through to a splendid finish.

People are made up of but two great divisions; the good and the bad. In neither division, however, is there true division—for there is none of us wholly bad or wholly good.

We are all both good and bad. That it devolves upon us all to be charitable toward all others, that others may be charitable toward us.

Get all the good you can from other people—and give all the good you can to them.

Overlook the faults and failures of other people. Look for their good and redeeming qualities.

Peace and good-will on earth is a matter of co-operation and forbearance—that is, giving the other fellow his due, and then working with him to make the world a whole better world.

And that takes in you who read this Talk, and me who has written it!

HARVEY READY TO ADVISE ON DEBT QUESTION

London, Jan. 29.—George Harvey, American ambassador to England, who was recalled to report to the United States government upon European affairs, arrived from Washington today and announced that he is ready to advise upon the Anglo-American debt negotiations if his services are desired.

Ambassador Harvey refused to discuss the British debt issue in detail, nor would he disclose what part he will play in future negotiations.

"I am ready to advise if called upon," he said.

The ambassador was questioned about the statement he was reported to have made that "the United States is damned well out of Europe."

Washington, Jan. 29.—An early decision by the British cabinet authorizing Sir Auckland Geddes to resume negotiations over the funding of the five billion dollar British debt is expected by officials here today.

Government officials who are watching closely the reception being accorded the American terms in England said today they did not expect immediate acceptance or rejection of the proposal carried back to London by Chancellor Baldwin.

The opinion nevertheless prevails in official quarters here that ultimately the British cabinet will accept the American terms or something very closely akin to them, although a great deal more negotiating probably will be necessary.

London, Jan. 29.—The British public was unpleasantly surprised at the frank statement made by Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, of what he considers the reason for the failure of his mission to Washington in an endeavor to arrange for the funding of Great Britain's debt to the United States.

The public had been led by semi-official utterances to believe a satisfactory adjustment of the matter would not be difficult; hence the question again is to be forefront of public attention and is considered to present to the new government of Andrew Bonar Law, which was elected on a policy of economy and retrenchment, a very awkward problem.

Acceptance of the American terms will mean, it is said, a yearly burden of more than 30,000,000 pounds on the British exchequer for the next 60 years. The government is confronted with demands from the working classes for a reduction in the income tax, and from laboring classes for a reduction in the duty on beer. How to get these demands while paying 30,000,000 pounds annually to the United States is the government's dilemma.

The cabinet is said to be divided on the subject. Some of the ministers, and it is reported these include the prime minister, favor accepting the American terms, but others incline to delay in acquiescence to them. The press also is similarly divided.

Some of the newspapers are blaming Mr. Baldwin for the present situation. As an example, the Express reproaches Mr. Baldwin for looking more like an American emissary than a British chancellor. This newspaper also raises a point that seems certain to attract a deal of attention, namely, that the American terms require payments in American currency. The Sunday Express asserts that any obligation to pay in American currency would be unthinkable, because any attempt to meet the debt in dollars could only mean the depreciation of the pound and eventually default with probable collapse.

Diogenes Out of a Job

DIOGENES, the Greek cynic and philosopher, was a successful advertiser. He lived in a barrel to advertise himself. At high noon he was won't to light his lantern and stroll about the streets of Athens, "In search," he said, "of an honest man." In this way he advertised one of the prevailing failings of the classic Greeks. For among the ancients, the most successful merchant was the biggest skinflint. The cleverest buyer was the loudest bargainer.

There's no room for a cynic in modern advertising. Advertising, today, calls attention to the open-faced honesty of business. It has standardized almost every article you can buy. You know what to expect and what to pay. You don't have to dicker, bargain and haggle to know that you are getting as good as you give.

That is why it pays to read advertisements and buy advertised goods. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its faithful performance, its lasting usefulness or its definite quality.

If you value constant satisfaction—if you want to get your full money's worth every time—read the advertisements.

Well-Known Columbus Man Tells How He Regained His Health After Taking Ka-di-ok.

Mr. J. E. Nichols, decorator, residing at 168 Chicago Avenue, Columbus, in referring to his gratifying experience with Ka-di-ok, says: "I feel it my duty to state my experience with Ka-di-ok as it may be the means of helping a number of people who are now suffering as I did, to get their health back. Before taking Ka-di-ok I was in a miserable condition due to stomach and liver trouble; I was very nervous; seldom got a night's sleep; felt drowsy and tired all the time, and was generally in a poor state of health. Quite often I would have dark spots before my eyes and a dizzy feeling. In a few weeks' time after taking Ka-di-ok regularly I am a changed man; my stomach and liver troubles have gone; my appetite is good, and I sleep well every night in the week and get up rested, ready to eat a hearty breakfast and do a good day's work. I cannot say anything too good of Ka-di-ok.

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

ESCAPE INJURY
ON TRACTION LINE

The members of the Wittenberg girls' basketball team, Coach Miller and several rooters, escaped possible death or injury, near Yellow Springs, Saturday night, when returning to Springfield, in a bus following a game at Wilmington.

At a crossing near Yellow Springs, the bus got out of the driver's control, and ran up the interurban track for about 10 feet. Before the machine could be stopped it got cross-ways of the track. A few minutes later, the headlight of an interurban car came in sight around a curve about a mile away.

Coach Miller instructed the girls, who were panic-stricken, to keep their seats and started towards the car, pulling off his coat as he ran. The interurban saw his frantic signals and stopped the car.

In the struggle to get to a safe place, several of the girls were bruised and several fell into the ditch along the tracks.

Stewed Meat and Rice: In most families at least a little of Sunday's roast is still left to serve for Tuesday's dinner. Line a buttered baking dish, or an aluminum mold, with tender boiled rice and fill the center with cooked left-over meat (any kind). Cover top with more rice, tie paper over the top of the dish, and place this dish, or mold, in a large saucepan containing boiling water. Let the water boil up around the mold for one hour, then turn out its contents onto your meat platter and serve hot, with the following:

Tomato Sauce: One-half can of tomatoes cooked 20 minutes with one teaspoon of sugar, one-half onion, and one-half teaspoon of salt; then rub through a sieve and add either one cup of soup stock, one cup of left-over gravy, or one-half cup of clear soup, (consomme or bouillon). In a frying pan, brown four tablespoons of butter and rub into this three tablespoons of flour, then gradually add the strained tomato and allow to boil up a few minutes before serving.

Apple Dowdy: Pare apples and measure. After coring and slicing. There should be four pounds of the prepared sliced apple. Put these slices into a buttered baking dish with two-thirds of a cup of brown sugar, one-third cup of molasses, one cup of cold water, and one generous teaspoon of ground cinnamon. Then cover with the following crust: Sift together two cups of bread flour, a pinch of salt and one teaspoon of baking powder; add enough sweet milk to make a dough soft enough to handle. Place this crust on the uncooked apples. Then bake the dish in a hot oven for 30 minutes—or till the crust is done. Now take the crust right off the dish and set it aside, while you slip the dish back into the oven to continue baking till apples are very tender (covered with a pot cover). When cool, break the crust into small pieces, and stir it into the cooked apples. Serve with cream.

Baked Squash: Cut the squash into small portions, to make it easy to handle. Then pare each piece after discarding seeds and stringy portion. Fill your quart measure with small pieces of the pared squash, each piece cut about one inch square. Now turn the measureful of uncooked squash into a buttered baking dish with one-cup of molasses and one cup of butter. Stir well and bake 50 minutes, or till soft, in a moderate oven, keeping covered at first. Serve hot in the baking dish.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

THE PORTRAIT IS NEARLY FINISHED CHAPTER 90

It was nearly 3 o'clock when Walter came in.

"Why aren't you asleep?" he asked, then went on to tell me of the opera. I asked who was in the box, if it were full.

"No, there were two vacant seats. I suppose someone disappointed at the last moment."

In fact Vashti said something of the sort. We went to Sherry's for supper! I gave them a dandy blowout!

"You treated to the supper?" I asked.

"Yes."

"Oh, Walter! Why didn't you let me know? I might have come."

"Do have a little common sense, Doreen! It would have looked nice, wouldn't it, for you to come tagging after us to supper when you weren't at the opera."

"I don't see that it would have been out of place for the host's wife to appear."

Walter made no reply, just went on describing in his quick way that they had to eat, and so forth.

"How many were at supper?"

"Five."

I sighed. Had I been there it would have been an even number. Then I told him his mother had taken me to a movie.

"Good for the Mater! I felt a bit guilty to go for such a lark while you sat home."

He hadn't acted as if he felt guilty, I thought, and I felt indignant that he should seem to imply that a motion picture made up to me.

"When will Miss Vernon's portrait be finished?"

Walter's mother asked at breakfast, after he had told her of his evening.

"It is nearly done. I shall exhibit it in the studio after it is finished. Cornelius says it is the best thing I have done. I didn't need his opinion. I knew it."

"Will she go back home then?" I asked.

"I hope not," his face changed subtly or so it seemed to me. "I am urging her to sit again. This time for an allegorical picture."

"But that puts her on a plane with the regular models," I interposed.

"Why should a wealthy girl consider such a thing?"

"There are people, Doreen," Walter replied with dignity, "who put Art above personal feeling and considerations. Miss Vernon is intensely artistic and is interested in all forms of art."

"What did she wear to the opera last night?" I queried.

"A wonderful dress, some soft chiffony stuff that was the color of a glorious sunset. A daring dress, that only she could wear."

His mother talked on other subjects while I sat thinking of Walter and the girl who wore sunset gowns, and was so fascinating in them.

I liked pretty clothes too, but "pretty" just described the sort I could wear.

In anything at all bizarre, I looked a freak. And this girl could wear the most unusual colorings and look divine.

I had not been in the studio for several days. I went very little now. There was something about the manner of both Walter and Miss Vernon that prevented me. I felt plainly I was not wanted.

I had been shopping, and as it was nearly time for Walter to stop for the day I dropped in, thinking he would take me home.

As usual I entered very quietly fearing to disturb him. Miss Vernon was talking and I overheard her say:

"No, Walter! It isn't right!" They had been Walter and Vashti to each other for some time.

"But what's wrong about it, dear?" he asked.

"We aren't either of us strong enough—no—don't ask me to sit again!"

Quietly I closed the door and crept away. So it had come to that, they could not trust themselves together! Blindly I left the building and made my way home.

It had come, that which I feared! They loved each other. Her words could have no other meaning.

"I have a headache," I told Jennie. "don't let me be disturbed." Then I locked myself in my room.

To Be Continued.
